Ready to sell

Getting out their bags for the sixth annual Northville Goodfellows paper sale this Saturday are, front, chairman C.A. Smith; second row, Phil Presnell, Russell Amerman, Art Radford; third row, Township Police Chief Ken Hardesty, James Petres, City Police Chief Rodney Cannon and Northville State Police Post Commander William Tomczyk. They and other volunteers will be selling the Goodfellow editions supplied by The Northville Record at downtown intersections and on Seven Mile in the township to insure that "no child goes without a Christmas." Record photo by John Galloway.

Tax bills in mail now to all local homeowners

Property tax bills arrive in homeowners' mailboxes this week and, for the first time, this year everybody buying a home will receive one.

Township and city deputy treasurers report that bills were posted Tuesday and directed to all homeowners instead of just to those who pay their own tax bills. Previously, if taxes were paid through an escrow account the bills were sent to the mortgage firm only, while the homeowner received no tax statement from the government.

New truth in taxation law, supported by an opinion from state attorney general Frank Kelley, however, states that local governments must send the bill to the homeowner (buyer) and, if so requested, to the mortgage company as well.

Both city and township treasury officials are concerned that homeowners will think they have to pay the bills directly, but in many cases actual payment will still be made by the mortgage company.

To forestall confusion, city tax bills have a sticker on them informing the homeowners of appropriate action.

"We're sticking a bright, tomato-red label on those going to homeowners with escrow accounts," Donna Kohs, deputy city treasurer said, "that states the bills are being sent as a result of an amendment by the state legislature in 1982 and that the original copy has gone to the mortgage company for payment."

If homeowners try to pay the bill themselves, she added, the red sticker will "flag" city employees that it is a

Northville Square sold but MAGS to continue

Sale of Northville Square building by owner Thomas Dailey and associates November 22 to a group headed by active partner Lester Koploy of Southfield was confirmed Monday.

Koploy said he did not expect a change in the operation of the building by the Michigan Association of Gift Salesmen (MAGS) which has 75-80 tenants who come from all over the Midwest for showings 11 times a year.

The building at 133 West Main officially became the home of the MAGS operation March 1, 1980, when Dailey signed a lease with Steve Gossard, president of the housewares wholesalers.

Koploy confirmed that it was a long-term lease but declined to state how long it is to run. He termed the building and its MAGS operation "a fine addition to the City of Northville," adding that he is pleased to be part of the community and lauding the downtown renovation.

Del Easton, whose firm handled last week's real estate transaction, stated it was expected the firm's tenancy will stay the same. He noted that the building is 100 percent occupied with a waiting list of wholesale gift distributors.

Easton recalled he had negotiated the first lease with MAGS.

"Hopefully, they'll be there for 100 years," he added.

He called Koploy the main buyer and general partner who actively will be running the operation in the limited partnership. Other purchasers are from Michigan and New York.

Dailey of R. E. Dailey Company in Southfield was not available for comment. His firm said he would be out of town until Thursday. Easton said Dailey is not selling to retire but has been working actively on the Disney World expansion in Florida.

Koploy's firm has offices in Southfield. He said, while he will be active in management, he does not expect to be on the premises unless there is a need to be.

The building is not open to the general public.

The gift wholesalers open it for 11 yearly showings of three-to-four days each.

The building is one of the city's major taxpayers, ranking fourth behind Northville Downs, Ford Motor Company and Detroit Edison. Its assessed value

Second arson investigated at state hospital

State and township police are investigating the second suspected arson fire in little more than a month at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital.

A storage area in the basement of building 'C' burned Sunday evening, damaging a steam pipe and destroying several mattresses, chairs and other items in the basement.

Preliminary police reports indicate the fire burned at least one hour without triggering the hospital's smoke detectors (connected to the central security office), despite what one investigating officer called "heavy smoke" filling the building.

It was only after an employee in building 'A' (connected to 'C' by a common hallway) reported smoke that hospital security forces discovered the fire in the basement, under a kitchen.

No structural damage to the building was noted. Patients were evacuated from the building when the fire was discovered.

Hospital personnel told township police there are many entrances to the basement, but all are supposed to be locked. A relatively large number of employees have access to keys for the basement, the township police report of the incident noted.

Township police Captain Phillip Presnell said the case is being designated an arson because there appears to be no natural source for the blaze. The police report noted township fire officials said there were no indications a flammable fluid was involved.

State police (fire marshal) have joined

Interview with Santa

Young fellow's under that white beard

By JEANDAY

"I don't do much of a 'ho-ho' — I'm pleased as long as I can get them to smile," explains Pat Howley of his Santa technique with young audiences.

Howley, official Santa of the Northville Merchants' Association, took up residence in the Santa headquarters downtown in the town square park during the annual Christmas Walk November 21.

He will be on duty from 10:30 a.m. until 5 p.m. Saturdays and from noon until 5 p.m. Sundays.

Usually, he says, he sits in a chair awaiting young visitors but, when business is slow, he takes a stroll through downtown to greet shoppers and stretch his legs.

Most surprisingly, the man in the red suit supplied by Del's Department Store is far from carrying out the "old man Santa Claus" image. Howley very well may be one of the youngest Santas anywhere.

A freshman at University of Michigan, Howley is only 18. He is attending the university on an ROTC Marine scholarship and commutes to campus.

He was recruited for the post last year by Diana Fisher, president of the Northville Retail Merchants. He had been working at Del's, he remembers, when Mrs. Fisher asked if he would be interested in the job. Like most college students, Howley admits, the money is welcome and he was glad to return this season.

Howley adds that he feels his previous experience working in a toy store at Twelve Oaks Mall has prepared him for the job.

He is aware that appearing young is not an asset for a Santa.

"You have to be careful," he says, recalling that on a visit to Allen Terrace last year the senior citizen residents decided he was a lady.

"Some of the small children," he says, "are afraid to sit on my lap. I hand them a candy cane to get them to come nearer and then ask what they want."

Howley adds firmly, however, that he does not promise to deliver. He just agrees to make a note but watches for parental help.

"Sometimes parents suggest things, and you know they'll probably get them," he explains.

There are trends already in wishes. "Boys want Stop and four-by-fours (trucks) while girls want Strawberry Shortcake (a doll) and stickers."

Stickers? "That's right," Howley emphasizes. "Stickers are a big thing along with coloring books."

His clientele is quite young. Some are in carriages and most are "no higher than third grade." There are some junior high age students who come "for the fun of it," but for Howley the fun part is recognizing a youngster he is able to greet by name. Last year one of the visitors was from a family where he had delivered newspapers.

"He was so shy he just gave me his list," Howley recalls. His mother, who works in town at the D & C store, adds that Howley wrote a letter in reply and personally delivered it to the youngster's home.

So far this year the Santa business has been a bit slow, Howley says, making the job somewhat monotonous.

That's when nobody's at Santa's headquarters. It's "a lot of fun" when the little children do approach his house, however, Howley says.

Santa's just hoping for a busy season.

Township seeks block grant money

Park Gardens residents and township officials will try once again to get up to $70,000 appropriated from Wayne County block grant discretionary funds Thursday night. The money would be used to offset costs of the Park Gardens sewer construction.

The community development block grant advisory council that previously rejected the township request in September, then failed to obtain a quorum of members at its next meeting, will meet again at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Melvindale City Hall, 31000 Oakwood.

Rejection of the previous request drew fire from township and homeowners' association leaders, with particular attention paid to the committee's simultaneous decision to issue grant money to Grosse Pointe Woods for a beautification project entailing the planting of trees and flowers along a main street there.

Also rejected was a request from Sumpter Township for money to oversee toxic waste disposal plans in that community.

Township supervisor John MacDonald has written a letter to the committee chairman requesting a reconsideration vote, township business manager David Lelko said. MacDonald, Lelko and representatives of the Park Gardens Homeowners Association will attend the session, he added.

In order to have the matter brought to another vote, Lelko noted, one of the committee members who previously voted against the Park Gardens grant would have to make the motion for reconsideration.

MacDonald's letter is not the only communication at hand regarding the matter — the county board of commissioners Ways and Means Committee passed a resolution urging reconsideration of appropriations.

The earlier rejection was based on two arguments: failure to tally the 240 point minimum score on a staff-produced objective analysis, and staff recommendation against funding the proposal. The two were related, in that the recommendation was based to some extent on the analysis. The staff rationale was that the Park Gardens sewer project has already received more than $450,000 in block grant money, is not unique, and benefits only a small area rather than the entire community.

The Grosse Pointe Woods proposal scored above the 240 minimum, but staff recommended against it as a poor use of limited resources. The advisory council, however, approved it.

Township officials and Park Gardens residents have argued that there is a human need involved in their request, citing environmental studies that show high human pollution levels and a need for sewers. That need, they argue, should receive higher priority than a beautification project.

Dental Dialogue

of A. Allen Tuchklaper, D.D.S.

SAVE THAT TOOTH

Q. If a child knocks a tooth completely out, can it be saved?

A. Yes in many cases, but it must be taken care of quickly. If possible wipe the tooth free of dirt and place it back in its socket. If the tooth is not back in place within twenty minutes the chances of a successful reimplantation are reduced. If you aren't able to replace the tooth, wrap it in a damp cloth, or have the child place it under his tongue, and take him to the dentist immediately. The tooth will be treated and replaced in the mouth with some type of brace to secure it.

This column is presented in the interest of better dental health. From the office of

Business zone sought on Seven Mile parcel

Zoning of Seven Mile properties opposite the state hospital will be at issue again next week when the township planning commission meets for a public hearing.

Master plan revisions proposed in a study of Seven Mile zoning were scheduled for discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the planning commission, after The Record went to press.

Proposed business zoning of a residential parcel on Seven Mile Road at Pierson will be considered in public hearing Tuesday, December 7, at 8 p.m. in township hall.

Township planners will receive public comment regarding the petition from Howard and Howard Real Estate to change the zoning of the one-acre parcel to allow a boutique to be operated on the premises.

At present, the parcel contains a house and barn. The real estate agency told planners last month the property has been on the market for several years and is nearly impossible to sell as a residence because of its proximity to Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital.

This is a similar argument to ones posed by owners of other nearby properties who have sought office and business zonings in the past year. The commission's study of the issue was launched in response to the frequency of the complaint.

According to the Howard and Howard representative at the last planning session, the new owners want to retain the house and barn but operate a boutique on the property.

Deed restrictions to insure that the residential appearance be kept were one possibility mentioned by the representative in response to planning commission concern that a business zoning would allow other types of commercial structures on the land.

If the rezoning is passed, it is anticipated the owners would seek a variance from zoning ordinance parking area requirements. A maximum of 12 customers per day is expected, the petitioner said.

The rezoning issue is expected to generate controversy, as have similar requests regarding Seven Mile properties for more than a year. Homeowners living in the area behind the Seven Mile frontage have generally opposed any shift away from single-family residential zoning.

Arguing that the area is already overloaded with commercial and multiple-family uses, they contend that traffic problems on the road are already evident without adding any other traffic-generating uses.

Opponents of business and office zonings on Seven Mile, including the Grandview Acre homeowners association, also argue that the area opposite the state hospital is the last single-family frontage remaining between Haggerty and Northville Road. If zoning is changed in that area, they contend, a "domino effect" will soon erase whatever residential character remains.

Police Blotter

Gun charge brought In the township...

Police are seeking a warrant for the arrest of a Detroit man suspected of carrying a concealed weapon without a permit while arguing with his estranged wife November 20.

According to the report of the incident, police were called to the woman's Crystal Lake Drive residence at about 10:45 a.m. November 20 by the man's adult daughter, who said her parents were arguing on the front porch.

When two township officers arrived, they saw the couple on the porch, apparently arguing. When the man spotted the squad car, according to the report, he placed something in his back pocket, put his arm around his wife and walked down the sidewalk toward police saying "everything is okay."

When asked what he had placed in his pocket, the man refused to answer. Police patted him down, discovering a .38/.357 caliber derringer pistol in the right rear trouser pocket.

The man was arrested for carrying a concealed weapon without a permit. After hearing his Miranda rights, the man declined the opportunity to make a statement. He was released pending issuance of a warrant. Police confiscated the pistol, which was fully loaded with four live rounds of .38 caliber ammunition. Ballistics tests are being conducted on the weapon.

The man's wife said she did not see the weapon before police arrived. His daughter said she saw something in his hand, but could not identify the object from inside the house.

The homeowner told police he left the residence about 8 p.m. November 23, leaving the garage door open. The next morning at 7:30 a.m. he discovered the tool box was gone.

The victim suspects juveniles are involved in the theft of more than $120 worth of goods from his Silver Springs apartment over a period of days.

The man told police he first noticed a tabletop Pac-Man game was missing, then his watch, around November 13. After buying another watch, and finding it missing, the man noticed candy had disappeared from the dining table and called police November 23.

Stolen were the $60 Pac-Man game, a $44 watch, a $15 watch, four silver dollars and the candy. The man told police he may have left the glass door wall unlocked and speculated that adolescents returning from school past the apartment may have entered and taken the items.

There were no signs of forced entry, and police noted the doorwall is partially screened from exterior view by bushes.

...In the city

Unknown persons stole a 1981 Pontiac from the Northville Downs lot November 20, but the vehicle was recovered by Detroit police the following day, city police report.

The $7,000 automobile's ignition and truck lock were punched, while the all four tires and the radio were stolen, police said.

An automobile breakdown ended up costing the owner of a Cadillac Eldorado the loss of items valued at $210 and another $200 damage done to the car Thanksgiving Day.

The owner told police he was driving northbound on Napier Road about 8 a.m. Thursday, just north of the C&O railroad tracks, when the 1981 Cadillac broke down. He left the car at roadside, where a nearby resident saw it in good condition about 10 a.m.

When the car was still there at 11:30 p.m. Thursday, township police had it towed away because it posed a road hazard. When the tow truck arrived, it was discovered two wire wheel covers had been stolen, the passenger side door windows were broken and a hair blower and money was stolen from the interior.

A Craftsman tool box and tools valued at more than $250 were reported

Three incidents of stolen wheelcovers from autos parked at the Northville Downs lot November 23 were reported to police last week.

The culprits took four wheelcovers, worth $216, from a 1982 Ford Fairmont; four wheelcovers, valued at $320, from a 1981 Chevrolet; and three wheelcovers, valued at $150, from a 1980 Chrysler Cordoba, police said.

Various tools were stolen from a North Center garage sometime November 22, police said.

The suspects took two drills ($75), a power miter saw ($200), a power router ($50) and an electric engraver ($19) from a workbench in the garage, police said. The total value of the tools was $344.

IRS has refunds due two with Northville addresses

Two people with Northville addresses are among more than 1,000 Michigan residents being sought by the Internal Revenue Service because their 1981 income tax refund checks were returned as "undeliverable."

IRS officials said Sandra Sue Byson and Michael S. Grogan were among those who either changed last names or moved during the year and failed to notify IRS — the most frequent causes of undeliverable refund checks.

According to Charles Parks, IRS Michigan district manager, the 1,073 checks returned in the state are worth more than $412,000. Individually, the refunds range from $1 to $10,800 and average almost $400.

Anyone who believes they were due a tax refund from IRS but has not received it is advised to contact IRS. Taxpayers should call IRS at 800-482-0670 to claim refunds.

Store gives apples for donations

For a donation to the familiar Salvation Army red kettle, located in every Farmer Jack store, each donor is invited to "have an apple" as thanks from Farmer Jack.

The 86 stores of the Farmer Jack chain will kick off their third annual Christmas promotion to benefit The Salvation Army at the Farmer Jack store at Rosa Park and Blaine Street in Detroit today (Wednesday) at 11 a.m.

Last year, Farmer Jack stores raised $22,000 for the Salvation Army Christmas Appeal.

"Because of this generous promotion by the Farmer Jack stores, we will be able to meet the needs of thousands," said Lieutenant Colonel Harold E. Shoutls, head of The Salvation Army in eastern Michigan. "We are most appreciative that Paul Borman wishes to continue the appeal to Farmer Jack customers."

Salvation Army representatives and Robert T. Marquart, vice-president of Borman's Incorporated, will be on hand for the opening ceremony.

Class of '62

It's first reunion in 20 years

For their first reunion since the Class of 1962 was graduated from Northville High School, members returned from as far away as the Pacific coast last weekend.

The former classmates weren't strangers very long because the committee had prepared a reunion program containing biographies solicited from each member.

The event was held Saturday at Red Timbers restaurant in Novi.

Bob Galli, now a Detroit resident who currently is a claims attorney for Aviation Insurance Company, served as master of ceremonies.

The reunion committee was composed of Susie Dimitroff of Northville who is advertising sales manager for The Northville Record; Murilla Berryman of Northville who currently is a housewife but has been a secretary for Ford Motor Company; Galli; Pam Correll of Farmington Hills who is an active volunteer serving on Quester, PTO, garden club and scout boards; and Judi Darling of Novi who works at Darling Mobile Homes as controller.

Among those returning from great distances for reunion was Dan Brown. He was class treasurer and now lives in Brooklyn, New York, where he is an architect and planner for Daniel Brown and Associates. He received his masters of architect degree from MIT.

Richard Bathey came from Mission Viejo, California, where he is an investment insurance broker.

Grace Brinson Hardy returned from Boise, Idaho, where she currently is director of Boise State University Child Care Center.

Dennis Bunch came from Sarasota, Florida, where he is an assistant vice president for Citizens Federal Savings and Loan Association of Bradenton.

Bob Hallam of San Diego, California, returned for the festivities. He is owner of Spa Centers, Incorporated.

Others in the class who now reside in various parts of the country include its president and valedictorian, Ed Beard of Braintree, Massachusetts. He received his Ph.D. from Columbia University and currently is professor and chairman of the Department of Political Science at University of Massachusetts at Boston. Unable to attend, he added that he and his wife Gina Gabriella Rossana, a German citizen, are expecting their first child.

The class salutatorian Paul Chadwick now lives in Oakland, California. He returned for the event. Holder of a MA degree in biochemistry from Harvard, he is a vice president of marketing for Rainin Instruments.

Sue Pharo Gustafson, class secretary, reported that she now is a Pittsburgh resident.

Sally Filken Files now lives in Rensselaer, Indiana, where she is secretary for a secretarial service and construction management firm.

David Jendrisak now lives in San Antonio, Texas, where he owns furniture stores; his wife Carol Morse Jendrisak was a classmate.

Vicki Junod of Palm City, Florida, is a partner in the law firm of Gamba, Junod and Schott.

John Kahler, also a Florida resident of Crystal River, is a medical technologist.

Carol Lamp Sickler lives in Cincinnati; Kathy Lee Kapp in Schaumburg, Illinois; Tom Long in Scottsdale, Arizona where he is chairman of the board and majority stockholder at Western Bankers Life Insurance Company.

Joanne Malik Popp is western zone operator in franchise operations for Dunkin Donuts in Huntington Beach, California.

Paula Folino selected to music group

PAULA FOLINO

Paula Folino, a 16-year-old junior at Northville High School, is going to be singing "on the road" both in the United States and in Mexico and the Bahamas.

The daughter of the Paul Folinos of 20556 Clement, she will be appearing with the Academy Singers at their fifth annual Christmas concert and oakland at 7:30 p.m. December 13 at Oakland University's Varner Hall.

This 28-member group, from the Academy of Popular Vocal Arts, has performed in concerts and shows throughout the United States. Students of the academy have recorded four show albums. The group of singers and dancers represents 12 Southeastern Michigan communities. Also in the group from this area is Vince Ventura of Novi.

Novi received notification last month that she has been selected as a member of the Musical Youth International tour group for the 1982-83 season.

The group of 100 students from the Great Lakes area will tour during the month of July in the organization's 19th season. The tour will begin in Mexico City and continue to other points in Mexico, the Bahamas Islands and Eastern United States.

The first weekly rehearsals will begin this Friday in Saline Area Middle School. Rehearsals will continue until departure. Musical Youth International students members combine pre-professional musical participation with family living in different cultures.

The organization was founded in 1964 by Dr. Lester McCoy and continues under choral director Alice Allen, choral director at Cass Technical High School in Detroit, and orchestra director Robert H. Phillips, orchestra director at Saline High School. Bernice (Mrs. Lester) McCoy is executive director of the MYI.

The selection of the 1983 season is the selection of an orchestra rather than a symphonic wind ensemble.

Participants in Musical Youth International have been called "musical ambassadors of world brotherhood and peace"

Paula's Christmas season appearance with the Academy Singers is part of the Academy of Popular Vocal Arts program of song and dance. The program is under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Grier and is open to the public.

Tickets will be available at the door at $3; they may be obtained in advance from the Griens, Box 307, Drayton Plains, or from Paul Folino at 430 North Center, phone 349-1473.

NHS art auction slated Monday

To help raise funds for a spring trip to Mexico, Northville High School Spanish classes will be hosting an art auction next Monday in the NHS cafeteria.

The Mexico trip, planned April 1-9, will include visits to Mexico City, Merida and Cancun, according to Spanish teacher Emily Serafa-Manshot.

The art auction is coordinated by Gallery Art Center of Lathrop Village. A preview will be held from 7-8 p.m. with the auction beginning at 8 p.m.

Tickets are $1 per person and can be purchased at the door. Refreshments also will be available.

Anyone interested in visiting Mexico, should contact Emily Serafa-Manshot at 349-3400.

Obituaries

Clarence Harsch dies

Northville Senior Citizens' Club President Clarence L. Harsch died unexpectedly November 23 at St. Mary Hospital. He was 72.

A 22-year resident of Northville, Mr. Harsch had served eight years as president of the Northville Senior Citizens' Club.

Funeral service was held at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home. Burial was at Rural Hill Cemetery.

A retired salesman for Detroit Harbor Terminals, Mr. Harsch also was a member of Northville Masonic Lodge 186 and the Northville Building Commission. He also was a member of the area Council of the Aging.

Born in Norwalk, Ohio, March 4, 1910, to John and Eleanor (Rice) Harsch, he is survived by his wife Mary (Stevens) whom he married in December 1933.

Other survivors include his daughter Mrs. Al (Pauline) Chamber of Royal Oak and his son Truman of Northville.

He also is survived by his sister and brother and six grandchildren.

EARL A. FONVILLE

Earl A. Fonville, 70, an American Motors retiree, died November 24 at Mt. Carmel Hospital in Detroit after an illness of three months. He had moved to 338 Debra from Detroit five months ago with his wife Stephanie (Rychter) Fonville whom he married June 22, 1947.

He was the father of Mrs. Antoinette LaFave of Northville, Raymond Fonville of Union Lake, and Louis Dzedzic of Detroit. In addition to his wife and children he leaves a sister Jewel Olesko of Florida, 10 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

He was preceded in death by a daughter, a brother and a sister.

Funeral service was held at 10 a.m. Monday at Holy Family Church in Novi where Mr. Fonville was a member. Father Kevin O'Brien officiated. Rosary was held at 3 p.m. Sunday at Casterline Funeral Home. Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Fonville also was a member of the Loyol Order of Moose Lodge 1620 in Dearborn.

He was born April 5, 1912, in Arkansas to John Wesley and Mary Willie (Anderson) Fonville.

LARRY JORDON MYNK

Larry Jordan Mynk, owner and operator of Mynks Restaurant in Northville for 14 years before retirement last month, died Tuesday at St. Mary Hospital. He was 58.

He had been ill for a long time.

Funeral services were held at 7 p.m. last night at Ross B. Northrop and Son Funeral Home with the Reverend Joe Wade of Temple Baptist Church in Redford officiating. Mr. Mynk was a member of Temple Baptist.

Burial and graveside services are to be at Calvary Cemetery in Corbin, Kentucky.

Mr. Mynk was a veteran of World War II.

A Livonia resident for 14 years, Mr. Mynk was born in Los Angeles June 14, 1924, to Hubert and Mary (Moses) Mynk. His wife, the former Polly Lee, survives.

He also leaves daughters Mrs. Barry (Judy) Rohraft of Riverside, California, and Mrs. James (Sheila) Crawford of Livonia, son Douglas of Westland, three sisters, three brothers and four grandchildren.

The family suggests that memorial tributes may be made to Temple Baptist Church.

Dumas sits on two of three county transition groups

The 15 county commissioners-elect, including Livonia-Northville area representative Mary Dumas, have been appointed to a transition team to prepare for the change of Wayne County government January 1.

The team has been allocated $40,000 for legal, financial and research assistance. Dumas is the only Republican to be elected to the new board, and one of only eight incumbent commissioners to win election to the new body.

When the new county charter takes effect, new county executive William Lucas will assume all executive functions and the board of commissioners, reduced from 27 to 15 members, will manage all legislative responsibility.

A Lucas transition team was appropriated $188,000.

The commissioner transition team divided itself into three committees. Dumas was named to the Personnel and Physical Facilities Committee, which will make recommendations on personnel policies, office arrangements, equipment, staffing pattern and table of organization for the new board. Other members of this committee are Arthur Carter from Detroit, Kay Beard of Inkster, and Jackie Currie, John Hertel and Bernard Kilpatrick, all of Detroit.

Dumas also will serve on the Legal Counsel and Rules of Procedures Committee to recommend on committee structure, revised rules of procedure, enactment of ordinances and legal counsel to be employed.

Other members are Milton Taylor of Wayne, Joseph Jurkiewicz of Taylor, Edward Plawewski of Dearborn, Richard Manning of Redford, Freddie Burton and Clarence Young, both from Detroit.

The third committee is Intergovernmental Relations and is slated to meet with other county elected officials and recommend on new relationships under provisions of the new county charter.

Walk-a-Long

Gerry Zails with Christmas tree in window of Long's Fancy Bath Boutique. The window display won the award for its category in the Northville Christmas Walk contest. Decorations included gift boxes, candles, and an intermixture of Long's merchandise. Among the judging criteria was the integration of the merchants product display with the Christmas decoration. Record photo by Steve Fecht

Jaycee Santa makes housecalls

The Northville Jaycees again this Christmas season are offering a personal "Visit from Santa" program.

Santa will make a personal visit to a home or club program by appointment, Debbie Anderson, Jaycee Auxiliary president announces.

Appointments are being taken for 15 minute visits at $10. The rate for each additional 15 minutes is $5.

Anderson is acting as Santa's appointment secretary and may be called at home, 349-4426, or at work, 349-7110, or Doug Boor may be called at 348-3730 to make arrangements.

However, no calls will be made on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day.

National defense is LWV topic

A representative from the U.S. Air Force will be the guest speaker at the December 9 meeting of the League of Women Voters of Northville-Plymouth-Canton-Novi.

The lecture topic will be military spending and national defense. The meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Plymouth City Commission Chambers on the second floor of Plymouth City Hall.

The December 9 meeting will mark the official kick-off of the local League's participation in a national LWV study evaluating U.S. national security policies and their impact on the nation's domestic programs and U.S. relationships with other nations.

Blood donors sought here

The American Red Cross will kick off its December blood drive with a bloodmobile at Northville High School today (Wednesday) from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Those wishing an appointment may contact Dr. George Aune at 349-3400.

When considering holiday giving, the Red Cross suggests the "gift of life" — a blood donation to assist their efforts through the holiday season, when blood shortages are often a danger.

Anyone aged 17-66 in good general health may donate blood. The procedure is simple, takes less than an hour and is relatively painless.

Other bloodmobile stops this month will be: December 2 at Ward Presbyterian Church, 17000

Farmington Road, Livonia from 2-8 p.m. Appointments from Sally Butler at 476-9427.

December 12 at St. Mary's Antiochian Orthodox Church, 18100 Merriman, Livonia, noon to 6 p.m. Appointments from Deanna Beshara, 534-0727.

December 14, Churchill High School, Livonia, 8900 Newburgh Road, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., appointments at 422-4156.

December 19, Newburg Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia from 8:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., appointments from Larry Johnson, 522-1977 (home) or 492-1175 (work).

December 23, St. Mary Hospital, Livonia; 36475 Five Mile, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Call Grace Fox at 464-4800, extension 279, for an appointment.

Salem bazaar to feature giant 'stuffed stocking'

A "Giant Christmas Stocking" stuffed with toys and goodies will be the grand prize in a drawing highlighting the annual Christmas Bazaar by Salem Elementary fifth graders and their parents.

The bazaar at the school, 7806 Salem Road, is open from 5-9 p.m., Thursday. A handmade quilt and Hummel-like figures will be additional prizes in the drawing.

The bazaar features many handmade craft items and gifts made by parents, students and outside exhibitors. The crafts consist of a wide range of professional, quality items including baskets, wreaths, candle holders, stuffed Christmas decorations, jewelry, purses, door stops, wooden Christmas trees and Christmas ornaments.

There will also be a white elephant sale, a bake sale, a garden center, calendars and cookbooks of recipes submitted by "fifth grade Moms."

Homemade chili, hot dogs and other tasty foods will be provided for shoppers for a "Christmas song" and a little donation during the evening of December 2.

Tax bills mailed to all for first time this year

duplicate. Kohs estimated that the ruling necessitated mailing an additional 1,000 bills to city residents in Oakland and Wayne counties.

Noting that the mailing, therefore, is more costly, Kohs said she hopes it will result in fewer telephone calls in January when many homeowners request this information for income tax returns.

The city, she said, mails out about 3,000 tax bills twice a year. The one in the mail this week is the "big" one with school and county taxes. The millage rate as well as the actual amount to be paid is listed on bills going to Oakland County homeowners, she added.

Kohs said that only about one third of the city's homeowners have escrow accounts with their mortgage firms, noting that legally it is possible to make payment directly. She said she felt many residents made the change to direct payment to earn high interest rates on the money during the year.

Township bills are being mailed with an informational four-page flyer above the signature of treasurer Richard Henningsen that not only explains the new practice but provides other tax-related information as well.

Deputy treasurer Syd Herral said the township mailed roughly 4,200 tax bills and a little more than one-third of them — 1,200 to 1,300 — were sent to mortgage holders, meaning a similar increase in postage.

She explained that tax bills this year are in three parts. If the homeowner pays the bill himself, he will receive all three parts. If taxes are paid from an escrow account, the first two copies are sent to the mortgage company while the third copy goes as a reference to the homeowner.

Like Kohs, Herral said she expects the added mailings will reduce the number of homeowner complaints regarding tax billing methods. "Before, they (homebuyers) often didn't know what their taxes were until they got a statement from the bank telling them the escrow account had a deficit or a surplus," she said. "This year, they'll hear about it at the same time the bank does."

The flyers included with this year's bills also include a pie chart showing the percentages of the tax money going to each taxing government (73.6 percent to schools, 13.4 percent to the county, and so on, with the township itself taking a 1.8 percent share while the police department gets 4 percent and the fire department 0.9 percent).

They also include a detailed breakdown of the exact millage rate for residents of both the Plymouth and Northville school districts (total millage in the Plymouth district portion of the township is 51.42 mills; in the Northville district it is 52.82 mills).

The flyer shows how to calculate the general property tax credit for use in preparing Michigan income tax returns and relates the property tax appeals process.

Taxes for both city and township are due December 1 and payable without penalty through February 14 (in the past, the township board has granted an extension beyond this date) in the township or through February 28 in the city.

Township taxpayers may submit payment by mail or in person at the Township Treasurer's Office, Township Hall, 41600 Six Mile Road. New this year is a drop box in the township hall for after-hours payment of both bills.

City residents may pay their taxes by mail or in person at city hall, 215 West Main, or at either the Main Street office of Manufacturers Bank or the drive-in branch on Dunlap.

Northville Gallery of Flowers manager Yvonne Puckett in front of decorated shop

Shop's a holiday 'greeting' card

Northville Gallery of Flowers at 335 East Main annually is transformed into a Victorian Christmas card for the holiday season by owner Kris Broderick and staff.

In time for the annual Christmas Walk November 21, garlands outlined the door and windows. In addition, each window of the vintage house that has been renovated into a florist shop has been decorated with a wreath. A banner proclaims, "Christmas is here!" while a toy soldier guards the front door.

The decorating won an honorable mention in the walk in the gift, florist and decorating shop category. Judges Ed and Barb Jamieson and Terry and Phyllis Fraser joined hundreds of shoppers on the walk to view the holiday decorating.

Broderick has made a specialty of offering business executives floral pieces for office decorating and for business gifts.

"You won't have to brave the holiday crowds shopping for the 'right' presents," the staff states, noting that flowers and plants have become among the most-wanted, easiest to buy gifts.

The shop currently has a large selection of centerpieces, poinsettias, bud vases, plants and floral arrangements as well as fruit baskets to cover a wide range of prices.

Broderick says it can deliver gifts anywhere in the metropolitan Detroit area, and, as a member of Teleflora, anywhere in the country.

The special Teleflora arrangement for Christmas 1982 is called the Baking Dish Bouquet. A Christmas arrangement of greens, cones and white chrysanthemums with red bows and candles is in a Pyrex baking dish that can be used by the recipient all year long.

The dish sits in a decorated brass-plated server. The design is a traditional Della Robbia one of fruits.

'Music Man' auditions at NHS

Auditions for the Northville High School spring production of "The Music Man" will be held from 2-5 p.m. next Tuesday through Thursday and 6-7 p.m. Wednesday, December 8.

All high school students interested in auditioning for the musical should meet in the auditorium at the scheduled times. Auditions for boys in grades 5-9 will be held December 7.

Performances are scheduled March 18-19 and 25-26.

Anyone requesting further information should contact Kurt Kinde at Northville High School, 349-3400.

Parson to Person...

Suicide

Dr. James Luther

Death is unpleasant, unattractive and painful. Yet, the Bible does not veil its inevitability or minimize its reality. In fact, it is through a death (Christ's death) that we find forgiveness, the promise of peace, and purpose.

In the beginning of his life, King Saul had it all - honor, position, power, strength, and wisdom. However, his bright beginning faded into the sadness of suicide. His epitaph comes from his own lips: "I have played the fool" (1 Samuel 26:21). He not only lived foolishly, he died foolishly.

Saul is not the only one in Scripture to end his own life. Another name comes to mind - Judas Iscariot! I am no expert, but please consider these safeguards:

- (1) Invest your life in others; do not center it on yourself. Selfishness and self-satisfaction are sure tickets to sorrow.
- (2) Expand your vision to the spiritual realm. Dwelling on the love of Christ and the wisdom of God's word is far better than morbid introspection.
- (3) Receive Christ as your Savior now! The most refreshing thing in life is to be forgiven, and thus, free of guilt.

Join us next Sunday for the sermon "Tale of Two Deaths-the Tragedy and the Triumph" when we compare the suicide of Saul with the cross of Christ.

Jaycees and Jaycettes need donations to 'Toys for Tots'

Northville Jaycees and Jaycettes have begun collections in their annual "Toys for Tots" holiday campaign. Chairmen Doug Boor and Liz McCarville report they are seeking donations of new or used toys and games that don't need repair and are in good condition.

These are distributed as gifts at Plymouth Center for Human Development, Hawthorn Center and Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital. A drop box is provided in the town square, next to Santa's headquarters. Collection of toys continues through December 21.

Nearly half of enrollment

Honor roll includes 457 students

Almost half of Northville High School's student body was named to the mid-semester honor roll for the first marking period, earning grade point averages of 3.0 or better.

Of the 1,000 students currently attending the high school, 457 earned grade point averages of 3.0 or better.

Of those named to the honor list, 49 students received perfect 4.0 or "straight A" averages.

Senior class members accounted for the highest number of perfect averages with 20 students attaining 4.0. Seniors earning straight A averages for the first marking period were Kim Assenmacher, Kathy Bainbridge, Miriam Caudry, Carolyn Dragon, Cynthia Eppers, Paul Havala, Leah Higgins, Roy Kiplinger, Marybeth Landrum, Darlene Laramie, Kristin Nelson, Julieanne Panowicz, John Pappas, Janice Roberts, Marianne Rothermel, Laura Santos, Richard Schohl, Christina Sjoberg, Tina Stocklein and Tracy Wilkinson.

The 13 junior class members receiving 4.0 grade point averages included Ernest Bock, Jane Kunst, Jennifer Merrifield, Steven Peltz, Daniel Perpich, Kim Petit, Catherine Sawyer, Sarah Stock, Kimberly Terwin, Andy Vallance, Wendy Warner, Anne Wertheimer and Scott Yackie.

Sophomores earning 4.0 grade point averages were John Bertagnoli, Dawn Biondi, David Denhof, David Dore, Robert Guldberg, Kathy Korwin, Daniel Levan, Kathryn Lickman, Jeffrey Peters, Holly Pope, Katrina Powell, Joanne Russell, William Steffes, Gaynelle Wagner, Karen Weaver and Eric Wheatley.

Northville Quilters honored on WQRS radio this week

Northville Community Quilters are being honored throughout this week by WQRS Radio for its "enlightened attitude toward the arts" as demonstrated through its programs.

The Quilters will be saluted on the air in 30-second announcements during WQRS' classical music programming. The announcements will state the Northville Community Quilters has earned "A Special Place in Time" because of its activities.

"Special Place in Time" salutes are a result of a survey taken of the cultural assets of southeastern Michigan by Timeless FM-105. About 500 separate musical, dramatic, dance, painting and other "artistic" endeavors have been identified.

Economist says Michigan suffers normal fluctuation

Although hard hit by recession and cyclical declines in manufacturing activity, Michigan is still a rich state whose financial reputation has suffered unnecessarily, according to University of Michigan economist Harvey E. Brazer.

Brazer maintains that Michigan's current fiscal difficulties, which triggered the dramatic drop in the state's bond rating, resulted mainly from "the sensitivity of the state's economy to fluctuations in the national economic activity coupled with a determined effort by Governor William Milliken and his supporters in the legislature to reduce the size and scope of government programs in the state."

State of Michigan bond issues have been declared lower in quality than those of every other state in America, yet the state remains seventh richest in the nation in total annual income and tenth richest in personal income per capita, he states.

The U-M economist concludes that Michigan "is still a rich state, still the center of activity for the motor vehicle industry with its high wage scale and, in the long haul, high profitability."

Fiscal crises have long been a part of the political scene, he points out. They should not be seen as new evidence of increasing distress, or, in 1982, as an indication of weakness in the state's capacity to function effectively in the fiscal arena.

The U-M economist examines some of the reasons that "fiscal crises have been a part of a way of life in Michigan since shortly after the end of World War II."

He notes that in prosperous years, such as 1978, more than 30 percent of Michigan workers are in manufacturing, as opposed to about 20 percent nationally. About 80 percent of the manufacturing employees are engaged in producing durable goods, compared with 60 percent elsewhere.

More than one-third of Michigan manufacturing workers are employed directly in the automotive industry, while an additional 20-30 percent are employed in supplier industries. "Thus, upwards of 600,000 people are employed, directly or indirectly, in the production of motor vehicles, and Michigan's share of U.S. output in recent years has amounted to about 30 percent."

This heavy concentration of automotive-related employment has yielded average hourly earnings that are over 30 percent higher than the U.S. average — creating a "vigorous, expanding economy that tends to fluctuate much more widely than the national economy," he said.

Recession-year unemployment rates in Michigan have been consistently higher than the national average, Brazer noted, adding that the state's fiscal crises have been closely associated with these wide swings in the level of economic activity since 1947.

The Michigan constitution request that each year's budget be balanced. Shortfalls in expected revenues force the governor to order reduced appropriations or request an increase in tax rates.

Brazer said that until this past decade the response to revenue shortfalls has been tax increases, accounting changes or inter-fund transfers. The tax boosts generally allowed fiscal expansion to keep moving until the next economic slowdown brought a new fiscal crisis.

Since 1972, however, the Michigan picture seems to have changed dramatically, the U-M economist notes.

"Between 1971 and 1981, only once did the legislature enact a tax increase for the general fund/general purpose budget. That was the 1975 increase in the individual income tax rate from 3.9 percent to 4.6 percent. Otherwise, for the first time in its 145-year history, the state has experienced major tax reductions in the past decade," he said.

Tax reduction which occurred despite severe recessions in 1974-75 and 1979-80 included the Homestead Property Tax Credit, local property tax exemptions and exemption of food and prescription drug purchases from sales tax.

"Revenues available to the state are lower by reason of these tax changes in 1973 and 1974 by more than $1 billion," Brazer explained. "Clearly it is possible to imagine that if such an amount were now available, Michigan's fiscal difficulties would be far less severe than they are."

The severity of the impending deficit this year induced Milliken to push for the temporary one percent income tax increase and 10-cents per pack cigarette tax increase, Brazer noted.

The new approach to Michigan financial management is indicated in figures cited by the U-M economist: From fiscal 1964 to 1973, state government spending rose at the rate of 18 percent per year and financial deficits led to tax increases. From 1973 to 1982, on the other hand, the rate of growth was only eight percent per year, despite accelerated inflation (virtually no-growth in real dollars) and taxes were reduced.

Brazer attributes the new approach "to a determination to reduce expenditures, to use the crisis atmosphere as a means of bringing about a reduction in the size of government."

The U-M economist, however, cites a 1978 survey which indicated that "with the exception of spending on welfare programs there is a decided sentiment for expansion ... and a stated willingness to pay for expansion."

Other evidence suggests that as expenditure patterns moved strongly in favor of social services, corrections and other functions targeted to specific small groups and away from broader services such as education, highways, public health and recreation, many people have felt they were getting less than they used to out of their tax dollars.

"The past three years of continuing fiscal crises, then, may be seen as part of the mechanism through which a 'reluctant, pained' governor and legislature, while frequently expressing regret, have been responding to their perception of public preferences favoring a reduced level of government expenditures."

"Only extreme right wing members of the House and Senate openly advocated smaller government as a good thing," Brazer continued. "For the rest, the outcome is forced by economic circumstances that yield insufficient revenues."

The irony of the state's position, Brazer declares, is that the reward for highly conservative fiscal policies has been "the lowest bond rating in the nation."

He points out that Michigan's general obligation debt and total debt at the end of fiscal 1980 amounted to $73 per capita and $315 per capita respectively, which compares to $187 and $540 for the 50 states taken together.

Government expenditures in Michigan at $2,221 per capita in 1980 were eighth highest in the nation, $305 more than the U.S. average. As a proportion of personal income, these expenditures placed Michigan 22nd among the states.

Since state expenditures are "obviously not out of line," Brazer said, "it is unfortunate that fiscal crises have been an important agent through which the majority in state political office have chosen to shield their aim of reducing the scope and level of government programs in the state. "Pleading poverty has, of course, long been a popularly accepted means of escaping unwanted obligations."

Unfortunately, a major consequence of this approach has been to cast an unnecessarily and unwarrantedly harsh light on the state's capacity to meet its obligations," Brazer concluded.

Says Economy's 'crumbling'

The nation's economy cannot live by Reaganomics alone. Michigan's economic health requires the infusion of a new plan of action.

That's the forecast from Peter Eckstein, research director of Michigan Community Action Programs, International Union, UAW.

Speaking at the recent Economic Outlook luncheon sponsored by the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, Eckstein appeared to be the sole solid opponent of the Reagan administration's economic policies.

"Essential parts of the Michigan economy are crumbling before our eyes," said Eckstein.

"With the national economy stagnant, every week seems to bring news of some plant closing that eats away at our economic base — or some major curtailment that erodes our economic infrastructure."

"Even if the national economy revives, we can have no confidence that federal policies will let us attract the capital necessary to revitalize our economic base and rebuild our infrastructure," Eckstein told the annual gathering of business leaders.

"It is time, then, for Michigan business to let Washington know that supply side economics is bankrupt — to say loud and clear that the emperor has no clothes."

"Business must say it because that is the only voice that can hope to be heard in this administration."

Under Reaganomics, new orders for business capital equipment declined 20 percent last year. Productivity and real output are down. The nation's unemployment rate has climbed from 7.4 percent to 10.4 percent. Defense spending has risen, he said.

One of the administration's miscalculations in dealing with the economy involves its monetary restrictions, Eckstein said. Even when accompanied by massive budget deficits, monetary restrictions can curtail the growth of demand and cause economic decline.

Although these monetary restrictions have been relaxed recently, problems remain. It isn't known if the Federal Reserve is prepared to lower interest rates.

Consumers are too uncertain of the economic situation to invest in cars, homes and new capital equipment, he said.

"Clearly, a severe tightening of monetary policy has been sufficient to bring the economy to the brink of depression. It is less clear that a relaxation of monetary policy alone is sufficient to bring about quick recovery."

Forecasts by the Congressional Budget Office project deficits of $155 billion for the 1983 fiscal year and as much as $23 billion for 1984. These calculations have implications beyond next year, he said.

Lenders are more willing to lower short-term interest rates than long-term rates.

If high interest rates continue to cause businesses to be reluctant to seek loans to improve their plants, obsolescence will impair efforts to fight for a place in the modern marketplace, Eckstein said.

"These capital resources will simply not be available at affordable rates if the federal government continues to go to the capital markets to gobble up $150 to $200 billion per year."

Senior Village study wins planning award

Vilican-Leman & Associates won top honors for its plans for an elderly housing project in Northville Township at the annual conference of the Michigan Society of Planning Officials (MSPO) recently.

The municipal planning firm's award-winner was entitled "Northville Elderly Village: Market Analysis and Site Planning for Adaptive Re-use of Surplus Public Lands and Facilities."

It deals with conversion of Wayne County-owned properties once used as a child development center but idle since the mid-'70s. The document led to current efforts by the Wayne Economic Development Corporation to have the project constructed.

The MPSO jury cited several aspects of the plan that impressed it, including completeness from market analysis through recommended zoning changes and project execution.

The plan's guidance in the cooperative effort between two government units (township and county); its reuse of existing buildings on the site rather than new construction; its use of the natural site conditions in the design and its respect for "the needs of the user (the elderly)" were other aspects commended by the jury.

The award was shared with clients Northville Township and the Wayne County Economic Development Corporation. All three parties continue work toward establishment of the "elderly village."

Ayearsts back in Novi

Disillusioned 'Texans' return to Michigan homeland

By KATHY JENNINGS

When the snow starts piling up and the wind whips the drifts, you won't hear the Ayearsts complaining. After a year in Texas they're happy to be back in Michigan where the winters may be frigid, but the people are warm.

In the fall of 1980 the Ayearsts sold their home in Novi and headed for Texas, back when it was being billed as the land of opportunity.

Instead they found a nightmarish landscape made more for bugs than humans, where the trees are sickly, southern hospitality is skin deep and the people even drive differently.

"It year was the worst year I ever spent in my life," says Richard Ayearst as he stirs his coffee at the kitchen table in his home in Simmons Orchard. "It was the biggest rat race of my life. I felt like I was constantly battling for survival — it was one battle after another. I lived in constant fear of what would happen the next day."

"If we can keep just one family from making the same mistake we did, telling this story will be worth it," Lana Ayearst says.

What the Ayearsts didn't realize when they left was the difference between Michigan's upwardly mobile way of life and the Texan way of doing things. They found Texas divided into the haves and have-nots. And the have-nots did not believe they could improve themselves.

"There was no middle class," Lana says. "You either have it or you don't. We couldn't believe the shacks and shanties. We couldn't believe people actually lived there. But we also saw homes that make places in Bloomfield Hills look like shacks."

"There was almost a snobbery against the working class," Richard says.

Anyone who moves to Texas should be prepared for culture shock, the Ayearsts warn.

"It's a whole different way of living," Lana says.

There were the Baptist Bible thumpin' families who were prejudiced against those of other religions and race. Or at the other extreme — the men whose major interests were booze, broads and pickup trucks.

"They lived for fighting, womanizing and buying pick-up trucks," Richard said.

"Their priorities are completely different," Lana said. "A pickup truck is a status symbol down there. Even if you have a car you have a pickup truck. We saw trucks parked next to shacks. The trucks were better than their houses."

And it's like going back in time 20-30 years, Richard says. "For entertainment they cruise up and down and go to drive-ins. I think we're 20-30 years ahead of them."

One problem Lana experienced was Texans who "looked down on people without an accent."

With her rapid speech, Lana encountered coolness when she went to the beauty shop each week. It was as if there were an invisible barrier around her. She drew attention everytime she opened her mouth.

Richard found it easier to meet people since he was working, and he reports some were friendly and willing to help when needed. But there were more bad experiences than good ones.

There is a joke they tell in Texas. "Do you know the difference between a Yankee and a damn Yankee? The damn Yankee stays."

It's cute the first time you hear it, but not after that.

Resentment toward northerners was growing while they were there, the Ayearsts say.

"Jobs are scarce for Texans. There are so many people looking for jobs that to fire someone doesn't matter there," Richard says. "I heard about people who were fired because they were injured on the job. Labor laws aren't enforced. It was like a nightmare. I couldn't believe it."

The Ayearsts say they should have known it was not meant to be when

Schoolcraft Choir readies for Ann Arbor concert

The Schoolcraft College Choir and Madrigal Singers will be performing at Waterman Center on campus this Sunday and at Hill Auditorium in Ann Arbor December 14.

The December 5 concert will feature the Mass in G minor by Vaughan Williams and various 16th century madrigals.

For the Christmas season, director Bradley Bloom has scheduled LaFiesta de la Posada by jazz artist Dave Brubeck. It will be featured at both concerts.

Director Bloom said the Ann Arbor performance will be particularly exciting since the choir will be singing with the Ann Arbor Cantata Singers and with Dave Brubeck himself.

The concert at Waterman Center begins at 4 p.m. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for students at the door. Tickets are available from choir members.

The Ann Arbor concert is at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at Hill Auditorium, from Eclipse Jazz and choir members.

Metropark permits sold

The 1983 Huron-Clinton Metropark annual vehicle entry permits now are on sale at six locations in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston and Washtenaw counties.

The 1983 permit rates are $7 annual or $2 for senior citizens and daily. Sale of daily permits begin January 1.

Permits are on sale at these park offices: Metro Beach Metropark near Mount Clemens (463-4581 or 963-3022); Stony Creek Metropark near Rochester/Utica (781-4242); Kensington Metropark near Milford (685-1561); Hudson Mills Metropark near Dexter/Ann Arbor (426-8211); Lower Huron Metropark near Belleville (697-9181); or the Huron-Clinton Metropark main office at 3050 Penobscot Building, Detroit, 961-5865.

Pine cone workshop scheduled

A pine cone workshop for those wishing to learn how to make trees, wreaths and other objects on wooden bases as Christmas decorations will be conducted at Northwest Branch, YWCA, 25940 Grand River Tuesday, December 7, from 1-3 p.m. and again from 7-9 p.m.

members and $7 to non-members. Greens centerpieces will be the topic of another workshop December 8. They will be made using preserved greens with red roses or poinsettias. Students are requested to bring a 10-inch candle. Other supplies may be purchased for approximately $5 from the instructor. Fee is $3 for members, $5 for non-members.

Information on all YWCA programs is available by calling 537-8500.

Our Opinion

Local organizations aim to bring Christmas to others

Time to help

This still is the season of shopping, gifts and merriment for most people — but not all. Plant closings and layoffs have eaten into savings. For some, the concern is just having food and clothing and being able to pay bills.

This year, because of the economy, there are families without resources who never expected to be in this situation. It is important that they be aware others know and are ready to help. One of the major local sources of help is the Goodfellows. This is the sixth annual Goodfellow edition of The Record which will be sold Saturday by Goodfellow volunteers under the direction of C.A. Smith.

Smith, still active at 90 years of age, has devoted great amounts of time to helping others. He organized the Goodfellows when he saw the need for a local group and has served ever since as chairman. However, Smith says that at 90 he "ought to slow down" and hopes to find a successor who has the time and interest to give to the project. This will be a difficult replacement as Smith personally sees that those referred to the Goodfellows "have a Christmas."

William Tomczyk, head of the Northville State Police Post, is Goodfellows treasurer. While the Goodfellows in the past have worked to make good their promise, "No child without a Christmas," they already have helped four families have a real Thanksgiving.

"We do not stop after Christmas," Smith emphasized this week. He said the Goodfellows expect to keep on helping families through the entire holiday season. Anyone knowing of a need may call him at 349-0854 or may contact the city, township or state police. Many police officers are prime Goodfellow volunteers.

This year, as in the past, the Goodfellows are working closely with the Northville-Novu FISH emergency help organization to help area families. While the Goodfellows give financial help, FISH primarily has offered other services. This month a clothes closet has been set up in the basement of First Presbyterian Church. Clothing is available for babies through adults without charge.

The closet is open for anyone to use from 10 a.m. to noon next Wednesday, December 8, and the following Monday, December 13. Anyone not able to visit the clothes closet during those hours may call the FISH emergency number, 349-4350, to make an appointment for a specific time. FISH volunteer Betty Hoffman said response has been excellent and the closet presently is well stocked. She emphasized there is no charge for the clothing.

Starting in January, the closet will be manned by FISH volunteers on a regular basis and will be open every Monday and Wednesday from 10 a.m. until noon. FISH is seeking volunteers to work two hours a month on the project to fill the community need.

Other organizations, including Mizpah Circle of King's Daughters and the Northville Jaycees and Jaycettes who supply toys in their "Toys for Tots" program, assist in bringing Christmas to those who otherwise have little to celebrate this year.

This Saturday Goodfellows will be selling at downtown intersections and in the township on Seven Mile. Everyone can help "bring Christmas" to others by buying a Goodfellow edition. Look for the men with the "Northville Goodfellows" paper bags.

Windy city revisited — it's great

It had been more than a decade between my previous trip to Chicago and my Thanksgiving week one taken to view "The Treasures of Tiffany" exhibit at the Museum of Science and Industry. I hope it won't be that long again between visits. Chicago is a great city to visit — as Record staffer Michele McElmurry and my daughter and son-in-law Laurie and Eric Egeland had been reporting.

The Tiffany exhibit sponsored by the Chicago Tribune has been receiving acclaim since it opened in June and has been held over, now sharing space with the 41st annual Christmas Around the World Festival in the museum. The two alone make the trip worth taking. The exhibit of the work of Louis Comfort Tiffany covers three levels and includes a reconstruction of the Tiffany chapel which he designed and displayed at the World's Columbian Exposition in 1893. In all, more than 400 leaded glass windows, vases, lamps, photographs, paintings and other priceless works of art by the son of the founder of the famed Tiffany and Company Jewelers are on view.

Visitors should not miss the audiovisual introduction, "A Mission of Beauty," which captures the scope of the man's work and explains his special tie to Chicago. For me and my traveling companion Kay MacKay, it added to our understanding of the artist and his contributions, which I previously associated mainly with Tiffany lamps.

We also liked the way the museum placed 32 giant (18-foot high) trees throughout the main floor that hundreds of representatives from different ethnic groups and nationalities decorated in native tradition. A word of warning, these exhibits are in the Museum of Science and Industry at 57th and Lake Shore Drive in Jackson Park, not the art institute downtown.

The Chicago Institute of Art is featuring an exhibit of European art. Its location in Grant Park made it possible to walk from our hotel, the Palmer House, which seemed as elegant to me as it did when I first stayed there 30 years ago. It has been taking out partitions to create large rooms from two smaller ones, resulting in the pleasant situation of two baths per room. (It also offers a Christmas shopper's package with free parking — a plus in the loop.)

A block down State Street Marshall Field's and Carson Pirie Scott department stores are decorated inside and out for Christmas. Marshall Field's windows depict scenes of Christmases past at the store. "The Nutcracker Ballet" is the basis for the enchanting Carson Pirie Scott windows. We felt comfortable in the evening joining many other strollers looking at the decorations. Inside Marshall Field's, the sugarplum tree adorned with 5,000 handmade pastel ornaments rises to a height of 45 feet in the famous Walnut Room restaurant. We had the celebrated chicken pot pie that was the original item on the menu when the restaurant opened in 1890.

It's a short bus or cab ride from the loop to Water tower Place with its floors of fashionable shops also decorated for the holidays. We were too early to see "The Story of Christmas Carol," but it's now among the live theater offerings.

I hadn't remembered how large the Windy City is, nor how well it has taken advantage of its waterfront location. Driving in from Jackson Park, we passed hundreds of fashionable high-rise apartments and condominiums. In the loop the elevated still runs, and on Michigan Avenue buses come along frequently. The "correct change" is $1.

As promised, "Chicagooing" was fun. I'm ready to go again as soon as I have vacation time.

After the fact

By PHILIP JEROME

The world is becoming increasingly unsafe. I reached this conclusion Thanksgiving Day.

No, I'm not talking about nuclear holocaust. If somebody's stupid enough to push the button, flip the switch or do whatever else it takes to send all those missiles speeding across continents, I figure there's nothing much I can do about it and will await my fate calmly.

What bothers me is kung-fu, jiu-jitsu and a lot of other Japanese words.

While enjoying Thanksgiving dinner, my brother-in-law announced that he and his wife are taking bow low gai pan (or something that sounded like bow low gai pan) lessons. And with that my sister-in-law jumped to her feet and began to demonstrate.

After uttering a high-pitched scream, she whirled around several times and kicked her foot straight up in the air, darn near knocking out a light in the ceiling. "That's a skull kick," she explained. And then she went through the same process again, except this time her foot streaked straight out in front of her. "That's the groin kick," she announced. "It's very effective."

I swallowed hard, attempting not to choke on the turkey. But things only got worse.

Then, believe it or not, almost everyone at the table confessed that they also were studying martial arts. Even my eight-year old niece, Randi Suzanne.

Now that's incredible. It's also very scary.

I'll admit that my in-laws have always been into machismo-type things. They all played football, Steven boxed in the Golden Gloves Tourney and Billy is called "The Incredible Bulk" because he's worked so hard at weightlifting that he's beginning to look like Bill Bixby's alter-ego. But basically they're nice, peace-loving people.

Except now they're all human arsenals, deadly weapons, qualified to inflict great bodily harm with their hands, arms, legs and feet, not to mention those ear-shattering high-pitched screams.

I have decided to work harder at establishing friendly relations with my in-laws, even Randi Suzanne. After all, how could I face the crew at the office if I come in with a black eye some day and have to admit I was bow low gai panned by an eight-year old?

Texas troubles brings Ayearst family back to Novi

Lana stepped off the plane and immediately learned they had lost their dog, Muffin, in the Dallas Airport at 1 a.m.

Lana and youngest daughter Elena, arrived in Texas four months after Richard as a result of difficulties in selling their Meadowbrook Glens home.

Lana took an instant dislike to the Waxatachie home Richard and their eldest daughter Anita had been living in. Within two days they moved to DeSota, a suburb of Dallas, where they rented a home.

"It did not bode well for their future in that home when Lana found 200 cockroaches in the dishwasher.

Spraying indoors and out twice a year is mandatory. And during the summer more spraying is necessary, Richard says.

When he realized his wife and children were unhappy in DeSota Richard knew it was important to find a place they would like, so "we drove all over."

They found Waco, a town in east Texas which reminded Lana of home with its lake, trees and hills. And they purchased a home in an exclusive subdivision.

"It looked ideal; we figured there was no way we could lose. We bought it and moved in," Richard says.

Then they took the girls to school. The first problem was finding a way to get them there. School districts don't bus children further than two miles, so most parents carpool their children to and from school. Since Lana doesn't drive, they found other parents wanted $30-$40 a week to chauffeur the girls to school.

"The only people who offered to help us (with transportation) were northerners," Lana says. "They said they understood and were willing to help."

It didn't take long to find out Waco has one of the worst school districts in Texas. Their oldest daughter brought home school books she had used in Novi two years before.

The Ayearsts discovered "private education is the only place to get a good education" in Texas. They enrolled the girls in St. Louis Catholic School.

As a result of their poor education, many people who provide services in Texas are simply incompetent, according to the Ayearsts.

The cable television company was called back to their home three times before they properly buried the cable. Twice they tried to get away with burying it by kicking dirt over it, Richard says.

And the telephone was installed so they could call out but no one could call in. That was after they learned it was not impossible to get a private line, as they originally had been told by the phone company. Some days it took the telephone company 15 minutes to answer its phone.

Many of the businesses close at 5 p.m. making it almost impossible for a working person to accomplish regular errands, Richard says. Since banks are closed Saturday and by 6 p.m. Friday, nearly everyone banks by mail.

Taxes were relatively low, but the Ayearsts said they more than paid the difference in other areas, such as sending their daughters to a private school.

They found prices comparable with those in the metropolitan Detroit area, although salaries were lower.

When they began to encounter problems, Lana says the tendency was to wonder "is it just me?" But as they met other northerners "we kept hearing the same stories."

Richard estimates it takes 1-3 years for a northerner to adjust to the Texas culture. Texas attitudes about work and social-standing were too difficult for them to deal with.

"I was willing to take a step down if I had to," Lana says, "but I wasn't ready to jump off the ladder."

She maintains Texans are more self-centered, because they have to be. "It's a matter of survival. They have to work so hard for the basics that we take for granted."

Boomin' is part of that difficult lifestyle. It is commuting carried out in the typical Texan big way.

"In Detroit a commuter complains if they have to drive 30 miles. That's just around the corner in Texas. Everything is spread out and they're used to travelling," Richard says.

Lana's hairdresser, who herself worked 12 hours a day six days a week, said her husband "boomed all around. Sometimes she might not see him for three-six weeks. We found out this was common. It was the only way they could get the extras."

She talked to a cab driver who told her employees working in stores in downtown Waco are not making minimum wage.

The Ayearsts probably had as much difficulty understanding complacency with such conditions as the fact the conditions existed.

"The locals are used to it," Richard said. "We asked them: 'don't you complain' and they asked 'why?' We know better. People don't have to live like that."

Ironically, the Ayearsts lived better than many who move to Texas. Richard had a steady job, because as an electrician he is highly skilled. He was able to find work through the union, although in a right-to-work state like Texas the union is not strong.

"The general worker who goes down there is in trouble. You must have a skill that can be transferred. He would be lucky to get the job in the first place and then when he's paid $6 and hour and $1 in benefits he might not be able to feed his family," Richard cautions.

After meeting many penniless families with no way of returning home, the Ayearsts warn anyone thinking of moving to Texas to visit first.

Because they need skilled labor, many companies make promises to prospective employees to lure them to Texas. But when they arrive those promises are never carried through, Richard warns.

"Don't leave without something waiting for you. Check it out. Know what you've been promised and get it in writing," he says.

They also say it is important for northerners to maintain ties with home — just in case they must return.

But the Ayearsts believe the best advice they can give to Michiganders is to stay home.

As the feeling that their lives were like a snowball careening down a hill, going out of control as it speeds up, deepened, the Ayearsts decided to return to Michigan.

"We finally said to ourselves 'it's only money.' It's better to lose money than your health and family," Richard says. "We decided the loss was worth it."

Lana returned to Novi to find a house. She and her daughters stayed with "dear friends" who sheltered them for three months. "Without our friends we never could have made it."

She found the home in Simmons Orchard and Richard returned.

Now they are putting their lives back together. There are two rooms without furniture in the house, testifying to the costly mistake the Ayearsts made.

Yet Lana remains optimistic.

"There's a reason everything happens," she says. "There was a reason for us going to Texas. It has united us and made us stronger. We're more mature, I think. It was a costly lesson. But we gained a lot of things. An appreciation for things around us, each other and Michigan."

Unemployment compensation reform proposed

The House-Senate Task Force on Unemployment Compensation financing reform has completed its major task by unanimously recommending a series of concepts to the Legislature, according to state representative Jack Kirksey (R-Livonia, Northville).

The Senate Labor Committee was to meet Tuesday to report that agreement with modifications to the full Senate.

The Task Force has recommended a number of changes that will result in an additional $3.633 billion in revenue for the system over the next four years. Employers would provide $2.541 billion in new taxes and employees would provide $1.092 billion over that period, Kirksey said. Thus employers would provide 69.9 percent of the sacrifice in the form of new taxes, and employees 30.1 percent in the form of benefit cuts.

Of the new money generated by state action, 45 percent would come from positive balance employers, 55 percent from negative balance one, according to a Kirksey communication.

In addition to the $3.6 billion generated by the state, federal FUTA tax increases on state employers over the next four years will raise another $534 million.

Even under the task force recommendation, the state will still be required to borrow $200 million from the federal trust fund in 1983. However, all interest-bearing loans would be paid off by 1986 and FUTA tax would be capped at 0.9 percent in 1986 since the changes meet federal requirements. The proposal would also retire the entire debt by 1988.

"But all is not harmony as the process evolves," Kirksey wrote. The Michigan Manufacturers Association and the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce oppose the package in its present form for a variety of reasons. They believe the wage base is too high; they argue that the increase in maximum taxes from 9 percent to 10 percent is unwarranted; they oppose the resumption of indexing benefits in 1982; oppose a solvency tax and want a June 30, 1986 sunset provision.

In general, Kirksey explained, they argue that the recommendation is too costly to employers and not expensive enough to labor. The construction industry is also disturbed by the recommendations since that industry, as the state's most negative-balanced employer, would be hard hit by the proposal.

"Finally," Kirksey claimed, "the auto industry has dragged its heels in the process but refused to state its case, preferring backroom negotiations excluding all members of the Task Force."

That industry has asked for elimination of the solvency tax, a smaller increase in the limiter, and a taxable wage base of not more than $9,500. In negotiations with positive-balance employers, the auto industry was offered elimination of the first two years of solvency tax but rejected that offer.

"Clearly," Kirksey wrote Monday, "negotiations will continue between now and Tuesday and the final bill may differ significantly from the Task Force recommendations. The auto industry will continue to attempt to shift more of the cost from negative-balance employers to positive-balance ones, despite the fact the task force recommendations require negative-balance employers who are responsible for 82 percent of the unemployment costs of 1982 to pay only 55 percent of the new money raised by the system."

The primary concern of the state Chamber of Commerce and the Michigan Manufacturers' Association will continue to be to reduce the overall cost to business over the first four years, provide for some continuing contribution (co-pay and extended benefit cuts) by labor and keep indexing of benefits out of the package, according to Kirksey.

As currently proposed, Kirksey said, the recommendation is supported by the governor, organized labor and UCAN (an organization of positive-balance employers). In principle, it is also supported by every member of the task force "with the possible exception of Senator DeSana who did not attend the meetings," Kirksey wrote.

Other areas where the task force itself has agreed that further additions or modifications to the recommendation might come, Kirksey said, are: 1. Some provision protecting businesses emerging from Chapter 11 status; 2. Modifications to the provision allowing an alternative to 20 credit weeks as a means to qualify for benefits.

Kirksey said the bill could easily be before the state house by the week of December 7.

Santa fun

Jon LaPrise laughingly tells Northville's official Santa Pat Howley that he wants "a stereo" for Christmas. Howley, hired for a second Christmas season by the Northville Merchants' Association, reports that junior high schoolers have had fun "visiting" him in his Town Square headquarters. Howley goes along with the action in the holiday spirit. See related story on Page 1. Record photo by Steve Fecht.

Denise K. Yancey is promoted

Denise K. Yancey has been promoted in the Air Force to the rank of senior airman. Yancey is a radio communications specialist at Charleston Air Force base in South Carolina with the 437th Military Airlift Wing.

She is a 1978 graduate of Lake Orion High School, and is the daughter of Raymond A. Kobe, 46035 Norton.

Graduates of the course learned to operate teletypewriter and other equipment used on the world-wide Air Force communications system. They also earned credits through the Community College of the Air Force toward an associate degree in applied science.

Katzbeck now will serve at Fort Clayton, Panama, with the United States Army Communications Command. He is the son of Louis J. and Many E. Katzbeck, 906 Novi Street.

Thomas Conklin assigned

Airman Thomas M. Conklin has been assigned to Lowry Air Force base in Colorado after completing basic training. During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force base in Texas, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force. Conklin now will receive specialized instruction in the avionics systems field.

The 1981 graduate of Northville High School is the son of Robert J. and Martha E. Conklin, 525 Fairbrook.

Santa goes on-line

Twelve Oaks adds high-tech to 'traditional Christmas'

By PHILIP JEROME

If high-tech is the wave of the future, it only stands to reason that S. Claus would computerize his huge toy-manufacturing operation and worldwide distribution system at the North Pole, doesn't it?

That may well have been one of the thoughts that occurred to Sheila Armstrong when she tried to come up with a new and different Christmas promotion idea for the Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi earlier this year.

"Actually," said Armstrong, who has been Twelve Oaks' promotions director since June, "I had several very specific goals in attempting to put together a Christmas promotion that was unique and different.

"I wanted to tie into the new technology, including home computers, but I also wanted it to be very traditional in nature. Christmas is an old-fashioned holiday and I wanted to retain that old-fashioned feeling while still tying into the technology which is becoming an increasingly important aspect of almost everyone's life."

Additionally, Armstrong said she wanted a "hands-on" approach so people could get the feel of what it's like to work with computers. And she also wanted something that would be "educational, as opposed to arcade-style."

The result is what Twelve Oaks is billing as the "nation's first-ever computerized Christmas."

Armstrong believes the concept is so unique and contemporary that it will be emulated at major regional shopping centers throughout the nation next year.

William Clogg, manager of Twelve Oaks, is equally as pleased.

"This is the classic Christmas of the 80s," said Clogg. "It captures all the fun and adventure of the computers that most children have access to every day at school and blends in the feelings of joy and anticipation kids of all ages feel as they wander through a Christmas display and wait in line to see Santa Claus."

Twelve Oaks' "Computerized Christmas" has the added advantage of benefitting the Detroit Science Center, well-known for combining science and technology in hands-on displays that have entertained young visitors for years.

Twelve Oaks has sponsored several benefits for the Science Center, a private, non-profit institution which relies on private donations to provide services.

The exhibit itself was developed in conjunction with Texas Instruments, a leader in the home computer field.

Brilliant computer Christmas graphics lace the outside of the exhibit with a series of entertaining scenes such as Christmas trees with blinking lights and a comic Santa Claus displayed on large TV scenes and accompanied by holiday melodies.

In the center of the exhibit, children are encouraged to send computerized "letters to Santa" with the help of a team of computer students from Oakland University.

The computer asks the name of each child, what street they live on and what city they live in. The computer also asks children whether they're a boy or a girl because "computers can't tell the difference."

Children then are asked to list three things they want for Christmas. All responses are typed into a home computer console by one of Santa's elves (the computer students) and the letter is transmitted to the North Pole via an inverted umbrella perched atop the exhibit which looks amazingly like a computer "dish."

Children who send a computerized letter to Santa receive a return transmittal on a teletype machine in which the jolly, old gentleman acknowledges receipt of their list and says he'll be sure to stop by (name of street) in (community) on Christmas eve.

Youngsters then share their personalized print-out with Santa and have their picture taken with him at the end of the exhibit.

In another section of the personalized presentation, children experience several of the educational computer games designed by Texas Instruments to challenge a variety of computer skill levels. Even very young children can sense the excitement of creating colors and shapes on the computer screen and play simple math and Christmas word games which involve guessing letters and words to receive a "reward."

In the Create-a-Tree games, a dazzling Christmas tree with blinking lights fills in the blanks on the computer monitor with the correct holiday phrase. The computer then sings "O, Christmas Tree."

Larry Molloy, a computer science instructor at Oakland Community College who helped design Twelve Oaks' computerized Christmas, said one of the goals was to get people to sit down and be comfortable with computers.

"At the same time," said Molloy, "we hope parents will be able to see the potential for the educational uses of computers. Although we used holiday phrases in our program, any subject matter could be substituted.

"Instead of learning holiday phrases, children could be learning a foreign language. The principle is the same.

"A lot of parents are worried about their children's attachment to video games," he added. "I think we've shown that computer games can be educational as well as a lot of fun if they're properly designed."

To emphasize the educational value of computers, Armstrong has scheduled tours of the computerized Christmas exhibit by school groups from around the area. Youngsters will be coming to Twelve Oaks to send computerized letters to Santa — and learn a lot about computers at the same time.

"It's everything I wanted in a Christmas promotion," said Armstrong, who admits to having some new tricks up her sleeve which will be incorporated in the 1983 Christmas exhibit.

"What's really rewarding is that we've been able to benefit the Detroit Science Center and provide a promotion that is both traditional and contemporary in nature.

"Computers are becoming more and more important in our lives, and this exhibit gives adults as well as children an insight into the types of benefits they can receive from home computers."

Just how many other major regional shopping centers across the national will pick up on the computerized Christmas next year remains to be seen. But Twelve Oaks has already been visited by promotion directors from as far away as Connecticut who want to see the exhibit.

Allowing herself a moment of whimsy, Armstrong admits that she wouldn't be surprised to be visited by Santa himself. "I can't help but wonder how he ever handled all the gift orders for so many previous generations without a computer," she said with a twinkle in her eye.

Business Briefs

NEW OWNERS of E.R.'s Saddlery in South Lyon are Robert Wilson and David and Antoinette Bingham. The store is located at 117 North Lafayette.

Wilson said it will be business as usual at E.R.'s until the new year, when changes in inventory and goods are planned. Wilson notes that the store now offers saddle repair services and a complete line of English gear.

Customers should watch for sales at E.R.'s during the next few weeks while the new owners attempt to make room for new inventory.

Wilson will take up residence over the store on Lafayette next month. He recently returned to Michigan from a brief stay in Arizona, where he decided that Michigan was the preferred place to live. Upon his return, the opportunity to buy the stock and inventory of E.R.'s Saddlery occurred.

Wilson has 13 year's experience in the business and said he rode bulls for 18 years and remains involved in showing cutting horses.

The Bingham's live in Walled Lake now, but Mr. Bingham has lived in the Novi-Walled Lake area "all his life," Wilson reported. They own Goddard-Talmay Insurance Agency in Walled Lake. Bingham will take an active role in the new business, along with Wilson.

New store hours at E.R.'s are now in effect. Wilson said the shop will be open from 9:30 a.m. until 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from noon until 5 p.m. Sunday.

DAVID B. NILES has been named director of product development for Cars & Concepts, Inc., of Brighton. Niles has been with the company one year, most recently as director of manufacturing engineering.

In his new position, he will coordinate product development and prototype activities of OEM programs and supervise management of the research shop areas.

A Detroit native, Niles earned a BS in Industrial Engineering Management from Lawrence Institute of Technology in 1972 and currently is working toward a BS in Mechanical Engineering from Wayne State University.

He has 20 years' experience, including product development work at Ford Motor Company, GMC Truck & Coach and Brickman Motor Company. He is former president and owner of Kelmark Engineering, a Lansing based specialty aftermarket firm which developed the "Kelmark GT" kit car.

GUARDIAN INDUSTRIES CORPORATION (NYSE) of Novi has announced that its board of directors on November 24 declared the payment of its regularly quarterly dividend of nine cents per share on January 14, 1983, to stockholders of record on December 24, 1982.

Guardian Industries is a leading manufacturer and fabricator of flat glass products used in construction and, to a lesser extent, in automotive applications.

Other building products manufactured by the company include a broad line of fiberglass insulation products. Guardian also services the amateur photography market through a nationwide network of 12 photo processing facilities.

THOMAS CONNELLY

DR. PHILLIP BURGESS

THOMAS J. CONNELLY was re-elected to the Representative Assembly of the State Bar of Michigan in a recent vote of Michigan attorneys. The Representative Assembly is the final policy-making body of the State Bar of Michigan.

Connelly will serve until 1985 and continues in the position he has held since 1979.

A Milford resident and a member of the Walled Lake-based law firm of Connelly, Jacques, Reilly & Ziem, Connelly is the municipal attorney and/or prosecutor for Wixom, Village of Milford, Lyon Township, Milford Township and the Village of Wolverine Lake as well as the Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

Former members of the law firm include the Honorable Gene Schnelz, Oakland County Circuit Court Judge, and the Honorable Harold Bulgarelli, 52nd District Court Judge/First Division.

Connelly and his wife Barbara reside in Milford Township with daughters Catherine and Jennifer.

DR. PHILLIP H. BURGESS, formerly assistant superintendent of instruction for the Huron Valley Schools, has been appointed president of the Jamak Fabrication Division of Jamak Incorporated in Weatherford, Texas.

Burgess was previously the vice president for corporate administration at Jamak, with responsibilities in administration of personnel, employee relations, purchasing and sales administration. He will now head the main manufacturing unit.

A graduate of Wayne State, Burgess was employed with the Huron Valley Schools from 1968 to 1981.

THE REYES SYNDROME FOUNDATION received a check for $500 recently from the Security Bank of Novi, the Novi Jaycees and the Novi Parks and Recreation Department.

The money was raised through the annual Run for Reyes, sponsored by Security Bank in conjunction with the Jaycees and Parks and Rec Department.

COMMUNITY NATIONAL BANK has announced approval of a 25 cents per share regular quarterly dividend. The dividend will be payable January 3, 1983, to shareholders of record on December 17, 1982.

It represents the 145th consecutive dividend paid by the bank. Community National Bank operates 28 offices in Oakland and Macomb counties.

EVELYN STANIFER of South Lyon was among the honorees at Hutzel Hospital's service awards dinner at the Detroit Athletic Club in November. An employee in the accounting services department, Stanifer has been with Hutzel Hospital since July 1967.

She was cited for 10 years of employment with the Detroit Medical Center hospital. The service awards dinner is held semi-annually to honor employees who have given 10 or more years of service to Hutzel Hospital. The hospital employs a more than 1,800 persons.

WILLIAM McLAUGHLIN of Northville, president of the Metropolitan Detroit Convention and Visitors Bureau (MDCVB), and Tom Killeen, director of Commercial and Visitor Development, were instrumental in having Detroit included in the itinerary of a familiarization tour of 85 French tour brokers and travel agents. The bureau hosted the group in October.

Detroit's participation is the result of a European fact-finding trip conducted by the bureau in April. McLaughlin and Killeen went on a sales mission and "sold" Detroit as a travel destination to European tour brokers and operators. They met with the United States Travel and Tourism Administration of Paris, which sponsored the familiarization tour. Participants stayed in the Hotel Pontchartrain and saw some of the Greater Detroit area attractions.

Retailers cut down on thefts with tough security measures

Employee theft, shoplifting and other forms of loss cost retailers $1.7 billion in 1981.

How stores are handling the problem was reported in the fourth annual Retail Security and Shrinkage study conducted by Arthur Young and Company for the National Mass Retailing Institute (NMRI).

"In one form or another, the cost of these losses or shrinkage is passed along to consumers," said Richard Hersh, president of NMRI. "However, our study indicates that the rate of shrinkage remained constant from 1980 to 1981. Therefore, retailers responding to our survey are incorporating more stringent security measures to reduce these forms of theft and, judging from the level of shrinkage figures and especially in view of high unemployment, these retailers are holding their own in combatting shrinkage."

Hersh said most of the companies participating in the study attribute 50 percent of their shrinkage losses to employee theft. Many retailers now are implementing employee education and screening programs to aid in the fight.

Security techniques such as polygraph tests are being implemented by retailers and have resulted in the constraint shrinkage levels, according to Robert Hoisington, an Arthur Young partner and director of the Detroit office's management services department.

Study findings also indicate that retailers are limiting prosecutions in favor of increased security measures. Although the percentage of prosecutions was down substantially in 1981, cost of prosecuting customers and employees accused of theft increased 23 percent.

More than 430,000 apprehensions were reported by participating companies of which 48 percent were prosecuted with 77 percent resulting in convictions.

Fewer than 22 false arrests were reported for each 10,000 apprehensions.

To combat theft, retailers spent $406 million in 1981, a 14 percent increase compared to security expenditures in 1980. Forty-seven percent of the respondents said electronic tags continue to be the most effective security device used on the selling floor.

Retailers are placing their emphasis on theft prevention because of the high cost of prosecutions, noted Hoisington.

"Although there is no one method or technique used by all retailers, the overall increase in security measures will benefit consumers by reducing costly shrinkage."

013 Card of Thanks

I would like to thank neighbors, friends and relatives for helping me during my time of need. Also Fleet Ambulance Service. Mrs. Vinyard and Family.
I wish to express my thanks to relatives, neighbors, and friends, for the many acts of kindness shown me during my husband's death. Gladys Bush.
THE family of Herman N. Hartner, Senior, wish to express our sincere thanks to all of our friends for their help and comfort in our time of sorrow. Our special thanks to Father John O'Callaghan and Father Ron Thurner for their understanding and consolation. We also wish to thank the Northville Police Department for their prompt, professional and courteous assistance, the two men of the Novi Ambulance Co., and the emergency staff at Botsford Hospital who were so efficient and caring. The family of Herman N. Hartner, Senior.
TO all of the people who sent cards, came or called, many thanks. It is a warm comfortable feeling to have friends. To whoever sent the load of slabwood to my home a special thanks and I hope someday to find you. God Bless you all, The family of Lloyd Bell.

Once Upon A Time

Once there was a nowhere man who lived all alone in his nowhere land in desperation — he reached out for someone to love but people just smiled and walked on by though he was a peaceful nowhere man he couldn't understand why the people wouldn't embrace him and welcome him into their hearts

A few tears fell from his eyes when suddenly he looked up into the sky

There was the most beautiful Angel — she had blue eyes with her arms open wide the nowhere breathed a sigh and died

Moral — love comes to all those who really seek it!

Buddy Dennis

Lingerings

The clouds turn to mist
And the mists turn to rain,
And the rain turns to mists
And to clouds again.

The summer, while gone
Still lingers on Into fall and late fall
Before it is done.

And we cling to the wisps
Of the lingering trails
In the lake and sky overhead.
As if in defense against cold winter gales
When the warmth of the year has fled.

Year in, year out
It is ever the same—
We dread the ice and the snow,
But we live and grow old
In this land we call home...
Is there some other place we would go?
Charles E. Hutton

The Last Day Of School

The last day of school
The joy and the tears
The laughter and sorrows
That come every year.

The halls are all empty
The floor fin'ly clean
There isn't a student
Around to be seen.

The parting of friends
The end of each class
And when the day ends—
In the halls — all the trash!

Each others' hearts
We surely are winning
It seems like the end
But it is only the beginning.

Lynne E. Harrison

All My Life

All my life
I had planned to love just once and I did.
She didn't

Hey Kid!
Whatcha
doin'
WEDNESDAY?

We've got a job
for you.

Once a week, on Wednesdays, our community newspapers are home delivered by young people just like you (minimum age eleven years old). They're earning money every week and are eligible for our contests, for prizes and vacations. More people are reading our newspapers in Northville, Novi, Walled Lake and South Lyon and Livingston County therefore, we need additional carriers. So if you live around here and aren't doing anything on Wednesdays...

CALL TODAY and we'll tell you all about it

Eight homes open for annual benefit

With the Northville Mothers' Club annual cocktail party benefit only days away, members and hostesses have been busy with preparations for this annual holiday event.

This year the club will offer hospitality at eight members' homes. Those hosting the benefit this Saturday include Woodhill residents Joy and Robert Holloway and Connie and John Condor, Springfield residents Barbara and Don Willoughby, Whipple Drive residents Angie and Paul Baetz, Portis residents Judy and William Bartling, Winchester residents Glenda and Donald Buist, Rogers Street residents Roxanne and Ray J. Casterline and Arselot residents Margie and Richard Sievert.

In addition, the Life Member group of the club will entertain at the H.O. Evans home on Woodhill.

Proceeds from the cocktail party benefit are used for projects in the Northville schools.

In addition to sharing holiday cheer, members also are treated to a variety of hors d'oeuvres and appetizers.

For those looking for a new recipe to try this holiday season, the Mothers' Club has offered to share a few of its favorites.

refrigerator at least overnight. Decorate. Serve with crisp sesame crackers.

HOT ARTICHOKE SPREAD

2 C. mayonnaise
2 C. grated parmesan cheese
2 cans drained, chopped artichokes, packed in water

Beat mayonnaise and cheese together. Add artichokes. Place in greased baking pan and bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika before baking. This recipe puffs while baking. Serve warm with Keebler Rye Toast Snack Crackers.

SAUSAGE BALLS

2 ½ cups Bisquick
1 lb. Bob Evans sausage
10 ounces sharp or medium cheddar cheese

Melt cheese and add raw sausage and Bisquick. Roll into walnut sized balls and freeze. Bake while still frozen at 350 degrees for 20 minutes on lightly greased pan. (Make ½ the size to get six dozen. Bake ahead so they just have to be heated).

SPINACH DIP

1 C. Hellman's mayonnaise
1 pint sour cream
½ C. parmesan cheese
1 pkg. frozen, chopped spinach, thawed and thoroughly drained
1 pkg. Knorr's vegetable soup mix

Mix all of the above ingredients together and chill.

VEGETABLES FOR DIP

2 heads of cauliflower (washed and cut in pieces)
1 pkg. carrots (cleaned and cut into strips)
1 bunch celery (cleaned and cut into strips)
Any of these three items: one basket of tomatoes, two green peppers cut into strips or two cucumbers cut into strips.

MOLDED SHRIMP LOAF

6 ounces cream cheese
3 green onions, finely chopped (no stems)
10 ounce can cream of celery soup (undiluted)
1 Tbsp. gelatin, dissolved in 3 Tbsp. cold water
7 ounce can bay shrimp meat
1 C. mayonnaise
1 C. chopped celery
Dash of salt and Worcestershire sauce

Heat soup. Dissolve gelatin and water in hot soup. Cool slightly. Combine with other ingredients. Put in small white Tupperware mold or loaf pan. Chill in

LAYERED AVOCADO DIP

3 avocados
½ bunch green onions, finely chopped
8 ounces sour cream
½ jar El Paso Picanfe Sauce
8 ounces shredded cheddar cheese

Mash avocados. Layer the rest of the ingredients in order given. Serve with two large bags of Doritos.

HOT CHIPPED BEEF DIP

2 8-ounce pkg. cream cheese
4 Tbsp. milk
Soften cheese with milk and add:
1 C. sour cream
4 Tbsp. dry onion flakes
1 tsp. garlic salt
2 small jars dried beef, minced

Put ingredients in a casserole. Saute ½ cup chopped pecans in 2 Tbsp. butter. Sprinkle over top of other ingredients. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Serve with sesame crackers.

JEZEBEL SAUCE

18 ounce jar pineapple preserves
18 ounce jar apple jelly
5 ounce jar drained horseradish
1 small can dry mustard (1 ounce)
1 Tbsp. cracked black pepper

Mix together and serve over 8 ounce block of cream cheese. Use three or four blocks cream cheese per party, depending on the size of the party. Serve with Triscuits.

When you're a "terrific tennis player" as well as good at golf and badminton and are about to have an 80th birthday, it's not too surprising that your friends arrange a surprise celebration to mark the event. That's what happened to Larry Fest, long-time Northville resident, when he was invited to the Denis

Woman's Club hosts Audubon Society guest

Detroit Audubon Society speaker Evelyn Edgar will describe the "Mystery of Migration" for members and guests of Northville Woman's Club at 1:30 p.m. this Friday.

Assisting with the program in the fellowship hall of First Presbyterian Church will be the speaker's husband William Edgar.

Plymouth residents of Ridge Road, the Edgars in retirement have been promoting nature in a series of what they call "Naturelogs Lectures — travel through the eyes of a naturalist."

Mrs. Edgar will be making the presentation as her husband assists with the slide program.

"Birds," she says, "are not the only creatures who migrate with the seasons. In her presentation she looks at some of the interesting facts and theories about migration."

"Who," she asks, "migrates, where, when and why?"

Before retirement, Mrs. Edgar was a teacher of photo-journalism and English at Plymouth-Salem High School. She is a member of the Miller

Woods Committee and a field trip leader for the Plymouth schools.

Both she and her husband, an instructor at Henry Ford Community College and a retired research engineer for Ford Motor Company, are members of the Detroit Audubon Society, and she is a past member of its board of directors and an honorary life member of the society while he is a current board member.

They also belong to the Michigan and National Audubon societies and the National Wildlife Federation.

Mrs. Edgar is assistant naturalist at the Seven Ponds Nature Center, where her husband is a member of the governing board. Both are members of the Photographic Society of America, as well as being partners in "nature travels."

Their program offerings also include talks and slide presentations on Michigan wildflowers, mountain trails in national parks, a trailer trip to Mexico and a visit to Darwin's Galapagos Islands.

Alpha Phi alumnae meet

Northville resident Sue Stinson will be co-hostess at the Detroit West Suburban Alumnae of Alpha Phi Christmas Ornament Exchange at 7:30 p.m. December 6 at the home of Mrs. Prill Brouillette of Farmington.

The group will be exchanging inexpensive ornaments and participating in the Loving Cup Ceremony. Any area alumnae wishing to attend should call Sue Stinson at 349-7517 before December 3.

Alpha Phis also wish to announce that again they will be selling heart-shaped suckers at Valentines Day in support of Cardiac Aid, the sorority's international philanthropy. Suckers will be for sale sometime in late January.

Koziara-Slaybaugh speak vows in South Lyon

Ann Elizabeth Slaybaugh and Michael Richard Koziara were united in marriage October 8 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in South Lyon. The full mass and double-ring ceremony was performed in a candlelight setting by the Reverend Gerard Hladad, a friend of the bridegroom's family.

The organist was Tom Berry, a friend of the bridegroom's family from Northville. Mr. and Mrs. Terrence H. Slaybaugh of South Lyon are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Koziara of South Lyon.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a white gown trimmed in Chantilly lace and seed pearls and fashioned with a chapel train. Her veil was attached to a hat of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby's-breath.

Karen R. Bennett, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, wearing a grotto blue, floor-length gown. Her bouquet was of white carnations, blue silk flowers and baby's-breath.

Bridesmaids were Laura Hilscher, friend of the bride, and Jacquie Harris and Cindy Budnik, cousins of the bride. Their gowns and bouquets were identical to the maid of honor's.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Harry Bowers. Groomsmen were Thomas Booms and Jeff and Tim Koziara, brothers of the bridegroom.

A reception for 280 guests was held at the South Lyon VFW Hall. Out-of-state guests came from New York, Texas, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Florida.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Florida. They now are residing in Traverse City, where the bridegroom is employed by Amoco Production Company. The bride previously was employed by Dr. Thomas Cook in Farmington as a dental assistant.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL R. KOZIARA

Birth announced

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Edward Graffis of Sarasota, Florida, announce the birth of their first child Justin William October 3.

He was born in Sarasota and weighed six pounds, six ounces on arrival.

Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Shirley Estes of Sarasota and paternal grandfather is Bertrand Graffis of Pemberville, Ohio. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.P. McDermott of Northville.

Mrs. Vesta Black of Akron, Ohio, is maternal great-grandmother.

The new mother is the former Kathleen Ann McDermott, a 1972 Northville High School graduate.

A christening has been scheduled during the Christmas holidays.

Couple wed in Texas

Patricia Catherine Ward, daughter of Roy and Pat Ward of Granbury, Texas, exchanged marriage vows October 2 with Stephen Allen Bosak, son of Frank and Virginia Bosak of Northville.

The double-ring ceremony was held in the garden of the bride's sister's home in Arlington, Texas. Judge John Forbes officiated.

The bride's sister, Barbara Hinds, served as matron of honor. Best man was the bridegroom's brother Dr. Robert Bosak of Exeter, New Hampshire.

A reception for 100 guests was held at the Rivercrest Village Clubhouse in Arlington following the ceremony.

The bride received a bachelor of science degree in education from the University of Texas and currently is assistant director of public information in Arlington.

The bridegroom holds a bachelor's degree in natural resources from the University of Michigan and a master's degree in leisure studies management from North Texas State University. He currently is park planner for the City of Arlington.

The newlyweds have made their home in Arlington.

Christmas chorus

Five Northville residents are among members of the Plymouth Community Chorus presenting its annual Christmas concert at 7 p.m. December 11 and 12 in the Plymouth-Salem High School Auditorium. Residents participating in the concert are back row from left John Cross, bass; Kristin Voss, soprano and John Frank, tenor. Seated are Marcy Her-shoren, left, and Barbara Frank. Tickets, at $3 for adults and $2 for senior citizens and students, are available at Sideways in Plymouth and Book Break in Canton. Group rates also are available. For further information, call 981-4861.

Pianist will perform at Schoolcraft

Pianist Todd Carlon will present his senior concert recital in Schoolcraft College's Waterman Center on December 12 at 4 p.m.

Assisted by the Wayne State University Jazz Lab Band No. 1, the Larry Nozero Quartet, trumpeter Jim Cook and trombonist Sherm Mitchell, Carlon's concert is partial fulfillment of degree requirements. He will receive his bachelor of music degree in jazz studies and contemporary media when the first class to complete the program at Wayne State is graduated in December.

Some of the music to be performed includes Carlon's compositions. He also has arranged all the big band charts and made the lighting, sound and publicity arrangements.

Carlon has carried as many as 18 hours per semester while performing as regular pianist with drummer J.C. Heard and currently with Larry Nozero and the WSU Jazz Band No. 1.

His Schoolcraft performance is part of the college's cultural and public affairs program. He is the first to perform in a planned "Young Artists Series" which the college hopes to continue on an annual basis.

'The Nutcracker'

Symphony slates holiday concert

Performances of "The Nutcracker Ballet" will be presented by the Plymouth Symphony at 2 and 5 p.m. this Sunday in the Plymouth-Salem High School Auditorium.

Northern Ballet Theater of Livonia, under the direction of Michelle Wolfe, will accompany the symphony in the performances.

Though "The Nutcracker" is one of Tchaikovsky's most popular non-symphonic orchestral works, the ballet was received with indifference during its first performance in St. Petersburg in 1892.

The ballet was presented periodically in abbreviated versions until 1954, when choreographer George Balanchine, with the New York City Ballet, presented a fresh interpretation.

Northern Ballet Theater of Livonia, which is in its seventh year, provides a unique repertoire of classical and contemporary ballets by masters of their craft, as well as advancing newly-discovered musical and choreographic talents.

In addition to performing, the company also presents lecture/demonstrations and residencies. Northern Ballet Theatre has been responsible for bringing the art of ballet to thousands of school children and in teaching the hearing impaired dance movement.

The company has been under the artistic direction of Michelle Wolfe since 1975. Ms. Wolfe, who also functions as the resident choreographer, has studied and performed with dance companies such as the Joffrey Ballet, the Royal Winnipeg and The Metropolitan Opera Ballet.

Tickets for both performances will be available at the box office. Single and season advance ticket sales will be held at Beitner Jewelry in Plymouth, Four Seasons Flowers in Northville, Arnoldt Williams Music in Canton and Liberty Music in Ann Arbor.

Single concert tickets for the ballet are $6 for adults and $3.50 for senior citizens, all children and students.

There will be free babysitting for preschoolers during the concerts.

The concert is made possible by a grant from the State of Michigan through the Michigan Council for the Arts and the Plymouth Symphony League.

Tickets available for club luncheon

Members of the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association are reminded that reservations for the annual Christmas luncheon must be made by December 6.

Tickets are $12 for members and $13 for guests. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Gerald Gerndt at 464-7081.

This year's luncheon will be held at the Renaissance Club in the Westin Hotel in Detroit. Social chairman will be Mrs. June Lafferty.

Indians topic of DAR meet

The John Sackett Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will host its Christmas luncheon and meeting at noon December 4 at McFadden Ross Museum in Dearborn.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Edwin Mudie, Mrs. Walter Fysh, Mrs. Mark McCoy, Mrs. George Nunn and Mrs. Charles Kippenhan.

The program, entitled "Indians of the Area," will be presented by Rick Smith.

'Messiah' is concert feature

The Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" will be presented at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville on December 12 at 6 p.m.

The concert, under the direction of David Heinzman, will be presented by members of the Chancel Choir and other singers from the area plus organ and church soloists.

The concert is open to the public and a free-will offering will be taken. Refreshments will be served in Fellowship Hall following the performance.

Seniors birdseed sale underway

Grapplers set sights on pinning down divisional title

By JOHN MYERS

Despite the youthfulness of his squad, Northville wrestling coach Gary Emerson is taking aim at the Western Division crown in the new Western Lakes Activities Association this winter.

"We have a good shot at the divisional crown if we work real hard at it," Emerson predicted.

"All of our kids were sophomores last year, while (Plymouth) Canton's were all seniors. We have only three seniors this year."

Canton won the final Western Six Conference title last year over runner-up Walled Lake Western. Farmington Harrison was third and Northville fourth. Livonia Churchill was last.

These five teams compose the WLAA's Western Division. Plymouth Salem, Farmington, Livonia Bentley, Livonia Stevenson and Walled Lake Central comprise the WLAA's Lakes Division.

"We'll be shooting for first or second, and then we'll be going for the whole thing next year," he added.

There are not any exceptional teams in the Western Division this season, Emerson said, but there are not any weak teams, either.

"It will be a pretty good dogfight (for the divisional crown)," he predicted.

The veteran coach said all of this while only having seven returning lettermen along with eight other non-letterwinners returning.

Heading the list of returnees is senior John Collins, who has been injured the last two seasons to force him to miss the W-Six meet each year.

"He is prime material for the state tournament," said Emerson of the 138-pound grappler. "He'll be our premier wrestler as long as he keeps himself under control."

Other returning wrestlers who placed in last year's final W-Six meet are senior Erwin Morfe and juniors Steve Smith and Mike Collins.

Morfe placed fourth in the 105-pound class, but will be vying for a slot at 112 this year, Emerson said.

Smith will return to the 145-pound class where he took fourth at the league meet, while Collins, who took fourth at 198-pounds, will drop down to the 167-pound class this season.

Actually, Mike Collins was wrestling at 198 to fill a void for Northville last season. The 167-pound class is really Collins' correct group, Emerson noted.

Other veterans of mat wars for the Mustangs are senior Rob Wolfgram; and juniors Bruce Wolfgram, Jim Assenmany, Craig Stewart, Mike Davis and Ernie Bock.

Bruce Wolfgram and Assenmany will battle for the 98-pound slot with the loser jumping to the 105-pound class, Emerson explained.

Stewart is vying for the 119-pound slot, with Rob Wolfgram having the inside track at 126-pounds. Davis and junior Jay Latarte will grapple for the 132-pound position, while Bock returns at 155-pounds.

Three sophomores are battling for the starting berth at 185-pounds, Emerson said. They are Joe Vogt, Dan Unsworth and Dino Candella.

Sophomore Greg Baker is slated for duty at 198-pounds, but could move up to heavyweight if needed, Emerson said, with one of three 185-pounders moving up to 198.

Therefore, the only current void is at heavyweight, and whoever is tabbed will be filling some pretty big shoes left by Vince Candella.

The former football and wrestling star won the W-Six heavyweight championship in addition to advancing to the state Class A tournament.

That doesn't bother Emerson, who has a squad of approximately 30 wrestlers.

"We have a lot of back-up guys in all the weight classes. We'll have a lot more (wrestlers) to choose from," Emerson offered.

The Mustangs posted a 7-11 overall mark due mostly to the work of its upper-weight class wrestlers throughout most of last season, namely by Candella, 167-pound W-Six runner-up Dan Sackliah and league 185-pound runner-up Neil Fitzpatrick along with league 138-pound champion Jack Wallace.

For now though, Emerson is getting the team ready for its opening meet Thursday against WLAA Lakes Division foe Farmington. The Mustangs will participate in the Belleville Invitational Saturday before hosting non-league Howell and Brighton at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Cagers back in Milan Tournament after year's hiatus

By JOHN MYERS

After a year's hiatus from the Milan Basketball Tournament, the Northville boys' cage squad is making a return appearance this weekend to open its 1982-83 cage season.

The Mustangs will battle Brooklyn Columbia Central at 7 p.m. Friday at Milan. The host school will battle Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard in the second contest. The consolation and championship contests are slated for the same time Saturday evening.

"We're looking at one game at a time," head coach Tim Lutes said. "We just want to be in the finals Saturday night."

The Mustangs lost a thrilling 62-61 verdict to Milan in 1980 — the last time they participated in the tournament. Last year, Northville was downed by North Farmington 57-48 for the South Lyon Boys' Basketball Classic.

Milan and Gabriel Richard are the pre-tournament favorites, according to Lutes. Milan has a strong returning group of players, while Richard is fielding an experienced ballclub, he said.

As for Brooklyn Columbia Central, Lutes did not have much information Monday other than the team is led by a 6-foot-5 center surrounded by an experienced 6-3 forward and a quick point guard.

"It's hard to make predictions," offered Lutes, who thinks the Mustangs can win Friday. "We look to be a pretty good ballclub with some improvements this week."

Four of the five starting slots virtually have been secured for Friday's initial contest after Saturday's three-way scrimmage with host Garden City and Belleville.

Junior Steve Schrader will be a center with juniors Mickey Newman and Dave Longridge handling the guard duties and junior Bob Pegrum at one of the forward spots. Schrader received the okay from doctors last week to participate in the scrimmage. The 6-5 pivot man had sustained a knee injury at the start of football season, and had participated in limited basketball workouts until last week.

"He ran pretty well, rebounded pretty well and blocked some shots. However, he still is trying to find his shot," Lutes said.

Seniors Dave Bach and Paul Havalala and junior Mike Weber are battling for the other forward slot, Lutes said.

The Mustangs used the scrimmage as an opportunity to prepare for the tour-namment, and to find out where the team's strengths and weaknesses are at this point.

"I was satisfied. But I guess I can't say, though, I came out feeling terrific about the team," Lutes offered.

"We accomplished some things we set out to do. We won some quarters. We lost some quarters," he added.

One of the team's strengths this season will be its ability to run, according to Lutes. "We did push the ball up the court a lot," he noted.

Also, the team seems to be strong in rebounding with Weber, Schrader, Havalala and Bach, he continued.

However, an area of improvement Lutes saw lacking was organization. He believes the team needs to work on changing its defenses and not gambling so much there as well.

"Based on the scrimmage, we'll have to beat people 100-90," Lutes cracked.

Keeping opponents down around 50-55 points a game is what Lutes would like the team to accomplish eventually.

With the fast-paced offense being employed by the Mustangs, the fifth-year head mentor realizes he will have to accept an abundance of turnovers, too.

"I'm looking at having to accept some turnovers simply because we push the ball up the floor so much. But we'll try to keep them at a minimum," he explained.

"We'll work at keeping (turnovers) down," he continued.

Also, there was good scoring from the outside from Newman, Pegrum, Longridge, Steve Frellick and Randy Swietzer, but Lutes saw a need to get more scoring input from the inside players.

"We're taking more outside shots, because we're in a transition game,"

"We just want to be in the finals Saturday night"

— Tim Lutes, NHS cage coach explained Lutes of the lack of inside scoring.

"We're a fast-break team, but we'll also try to set up the offense sometimes," he added.

"It will be a matter of finding the right combination of fast-break offense and using a patient, set-up offense," Lutes noted.

Come Friday evening, the Mustangs will try to get the right combinations to carry them to the tournament title.

The Northville junior varsity squad will participate in the Milan JV Tournament against Brooklyn Columbia Central at 6:30 p.m. Friday evening at the Milan Junior High School gymnasium.

Silver Beaver Medal awarded to Stoddard

Around 19 years ago when Northville Boy Scout Troop 755 was looking for a new scout coordinator, Warren Stoddard was assigned the task of finding the replacement.

His oldest son Robert, now 30 years old, had just started in the troop when this assignment began. There were a couple of monthly meetings before volunteers were sought.

"When nobody volunteered, I took the job myself and I've been in it ever since," he explained.

For all of the years of service to the Boy Scouts from that infamous beginning, Stoddard recently was awarded the distinguished Silver Beaver medal — the highest recognition given by the National Boy Scout Organization for local service to scouting and youth.

The award was given at the Recognition Dinner of the Gemini District to which Troop 755, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church, belongs.

"I was tickled to death," said Stoddard when informed he was awarded the Silver Beaver medal.

"It is something you don't get very often because you have to have so many years of service before you're considered," he added.

Stoddard has served Troop 755 in many capacities, such as troop committee chairman, district camping committee member, district training committee chairman, scoutmaster and scouting coordinator.

He has always maintained a close relationship with his troop despite serving in his various capacities.

The Canadian wilderness canoe trip in northern Ontario each summer is one of his biggest achievements, he said.

He also likes to point out more senior boys are staying longer in scouting with Troop 755 than most other troops.

Among the other listed accomplishments noted in the citation prepared by the Detroit Area Council, includes his establishing a clothing chest giving boys unable to purchase a uniform an opportunity to have a uniform during their time in scouting.

Also, he established a financial program to help scouts participate in activities which they could not otherwise afford. To help prepare himself to do a better job with his troop, he achieved the Scouter's Training Award, the Scouter's Key and has been awarded the Wood Badge Beads.

He also has served on the city planning commission, and is active in his church as a trustee and member of the Men's Association.

Both his sons Robert and Jim, 19, were active in Troop 755 which kept him going even after they finished.

Now, already past retirement age, he thinks, after another year with the troop, he'll retire. Then, he explained he might move back to his native East Coast.

Tankers set to make splash at state meet

Four Northville swimmers, possibly more, will be competing in the Michigan High School Athletic Association Class A girls' swim meet Friday and Saturday at Michigan State University in East Lansing.

Seniors Trish Settles and Kristin Nelson will be competing in individual events as well as teaming with juniors Shawn Bales and Kim Thompson to compete in the 200-yard medley relay.

Second-year coach Bill Dicks said there might be more Northville swimmers competing if the MHSAA cannot fill all of the events through state qualifying times.

Since the MHSAA would like to have four heats of six entries in each event, there may not be 24 tankers who qualified in all events.

Therefore, coaches may send in swimmers' times who were near the state cut time to be considered for the state meet. As of Monday, Dicks had not heard if any more Mustang tankers would be going.

It could be late as Thursday before Dicks received any response, which he noted is not good since many of his swimmers whose times he sent in have not been practicing because of the questionable status.

Preliminaries are slated for Friday with the top 12 swimmers in each event qualifying for Saturday's finals.

This will be the second straight appearance in the state meet for Settles. The senior tanker placed 15th in the 50-yard freestyle with a 25.5 clocking.

She again will be competing in the 50-yard freestyle as well as the 500-yard freestyle and in the relay.

Nelson will be competing in the 500 freestyle as well as the relay. This also will be the first appearances in the state meet for Bales and Thompson.

Also, divers Mandy Waltz and Cathy Heitert competed at the Class A regional diving meet at Brighton Tuesday. If they finished in the top 12, then they will advance to the state meet.

Although he did not want to make any predictions, Dicks believes his swimmers have a shot at making the top 12 in their respective events.

"Sometimes if they don't know how many other swimmers are ahead of them, they'll do better," he added.

"They have been working hard," Dicks continued.

Proudly Presents

Twas A Few Days 'Til Christmas

T'was a few days 'til Christmas and all thru the halls
All the ceilings were peeling and so were the walls
The chimney that stockings were hung by with care
Like most of the house was in need of repair.

The children were nestled all snug in their beds
While pieces of plaster fell down on their heads

Then I with my hammer and lack of finesse
Had tried hanging wreaths up but made quite a mess
So there on the carpet were several bent nails
And pieces of paneling that splintered and fell

Away to the closet I flew like a flash
To hook up the vacuum and pick up the trash
The plug on the cord of the vacuum was wet
And gave me a shock that I won't soon forget

When looking at watermarked ceilings and floor
It was plain how the dampness had ruined the cord
With a leak in the ceilings I knew right away
That all of the ceilings must soon be replaced

More rapid than crabgrass my trouble had grown
I mumbled and grumbled and started to moan
If it's not one thing, it's surely another
And I'd live a lot better if I had my druthers

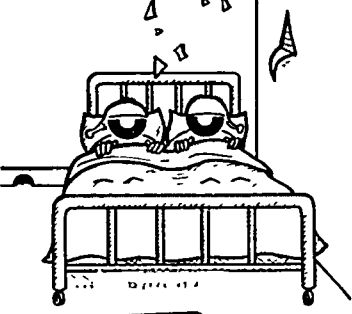

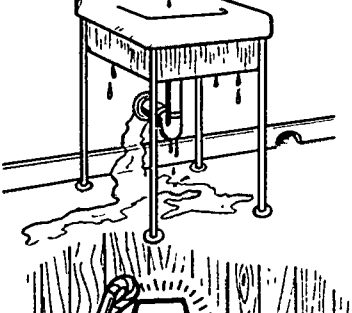

The top of the front porch is ready to fall
And the siding needs painting on all outside walls

The plumbing is coming apart at the seams
And making a nightmare of the house of my dreams
It all looked so hopeless, I sat in my chair
My face in my hands in utter despair

But then as I pondered the problems I had
I picked up a paper and saw a big ad
It told of a place where the big builders go
To buy their supplies cause the prices are low

The home decorators have known quite a while
It's a great place for buying their paint and their tile
Plus paneling and shelving and lights of all kind
And tools, locks and hardware, the best you can find

So when you find that your home is a wreck
Go by the store where the big builders check
Each time that you stop in, you'll see how they try
To give super service and extra Good Buys

Wool misses qualifying

So close, but yet so far. Even though this is an often used cliché, it certainly applies to Kelly Wool. The junior Northville girls' cross country runner has come close again to attaining bigger honors in another meet.

This time it was at the Junior Olympics at Flint's IMA Brookwood course last month. As a member of the Michigan Track Association, she competed in two qualifying rounds in an attempt to advance to the national Junior Olympics meet.

Wool made it through the first qualifying race November 13 by finishing 12th in the five kilometer race with a time of 19:32. Therefore, she was one of 30 runners to advance to the second qualifying round November 20.

Additionally, that was nearly six seconds faster than her eighth place Class A state meet time run on the same course November 6. Also, she missed making the All State team, which takes the top seven runners, by two seconds.

It was a cold, rainy day November 20 for the qualifying round in which the top 15 runners would advance to the national meet.

This time, Wool placed 18th in the field with a time of 19:48 to narrowly miss the cutoff point. NHS coach Ed Gabrys thought Wool might have been able to qualify if the conditions were better.

"But, it's kind of hard to say," he added. "She was close, and she was competing against the cream of the crop in the state."

This has been a banner season for Wool, who carries a 3.5 grade point average. She developed into the Mustangs' top girls' runner this year. Among her list of accomplishments are a third-place finish in the Western Lakes Activities Association meet, second in regionals and eighth at the Class A state meet.

"Our hopes for next year rest with her, and the rest of the girls," Gabrys projected.

Spikers national runners-up

Schoolcraft Community College's women's volleyball team claimed second place in the National Junior College Athletic Association Championships in Baltimore, Maryland, during the weekend.

The Ocelots lost in the championship contest to Scottsdale, Arizona, to go home with the national runner-up trophy.

Schoolcraft's women's team also has played a big part in the resurgence of volleyball at Ferris State College (FSC) in Big Rapids over the past few years.

Seniors Linda Spicer and Linda Mix and junior Leigh Feenstra, who comprise half of Ferris State's starting line up, are Schoolcraft graduates. All three honed their skills under Ocelot coach Mike O'Toole.

Spicer's presence gave the FSC volleyball program an immediate lift. In addition to being named Most Valuable Player, she was the first Ferris State player to be named to first team honors on the All-Great Lakes Inter-collegiate Athletic Conference (GLIAC) team.

Spicer guided the squad to a school-record 27 wins. The 5-foot-4 Mix, a junior college All-American, quickly proved to FSC coach Kathy DeBoer she could play anywhere on the court and received honorable mention recognition on the All-GLIAC squad.

Also, Schoolcraft is hosting the Fourth Annual Can-Am boxing tournament Saturday. Tickets are $5 for ringside and $3 general admission. For more information, call the Schoolcraft Athletic Office at 591-6400.

The Ocelot men's basketball team has started its season on a winning note with three straight triumphs. Pacing the team in those victories has been Carlos Briggs, who has been burning the nets for a 53.5 (that is right) points per game average. Briggs burned the nets for 53 points in an 89-84 overtime win over Southwestern Michigan. He scored 48 against Kellogg Community College, and sizzled the nets for 60 points in a 136-51 thrashing of the University of Windsor.

Local hockey players help FSC

Northville natives Scott Robins and Ken Stelmach have been making their presence felt on the Ferris State College hockey team this season.

Although Robins has not seen as much as action Stelmach, the freshman forward scored his first collegiate goal against Lake Superior State College in early November. It was his first appearance of the season.

He netted his second goal in a 7-3 victory over Western Michigan in middle November. The business administration major has two goals in four games for the Bulldogs.

Stelmach has been a pleasant surprise for the Bulldogs. The freshman right winger has played in five of eight contests scoring three times and assisting on another goal.

The pre-arts major has been selected "Bulldog of the Week" once and appears to have entrenched himself in the regular line up.

Both players were members of the Waterford Lakers in the Great Lakes Junior A League last year. Robins netted 45 goals and assisted on 47 others, while Stelmach had 40 goals and 46 assists in 43 games.

Robins is a 1981 graduate of Northville High School, while Stelmach is a 1980 NHS graduate.

The Bulldogs are members of the tough Central Collegiate Hockey Association. Other members of the association are Michigan State, Michigan Tech, Michigan, Northern Michigan and Bowling Green State University.

The Bulldogs, who compete in the National Collegiate Athletic Association Division I, are coached by Dick Bertrand. He comes from Cornell University in New York where he had coached for 12 seasons.

Novi sponsors sports equipment sale

Got a pair of used skis or a toboggan you don't need anymore?

Or maybe you'd like to take up cross-country skiing but don't want to buy brand new equipment until you're sure you'll enjoy it?

The Novi Parks and Recreation Department has just the answer.

The Parks and Rec Department will sponsor its second annual Used Sports and Recreation Equipment Sale this Saturday at the Novi Community building from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Interested sellers should bring their items to the Novi Community Building on Friday from 6-8 p.m. Parks and Rec will retain 15 percent of the sales price.

Suggested items include cross-country and downhill skis, ice skates, roller skates, bowling balls, bicycles, toboggans and sleds as well as softball, soccer, football, baseball and hockey equipment.

For more information call the Novi Parks and Rec Department at 349-1976.

Nadeau fights for guard slot at Auburn

Former All State girls' basketball standout Leslie Nadeau is beginning her second season with the Auburn Lady Tigers cage squad this winter.

The Northville native who prepped at Livonia Ladywood High School is the third wing guard listed on coach Joe Ciampi's depth chart. She currently is behind sophomore starter Debra Larkin and sophomore back-up Terri Mohr.

The sophomore guard last season appeared in 21 games and averaged 1.4 points per game and 1.4 rebounds per game. She had career highs of five points and five boards against Texas El-Paso.

In addition, the 5-foot-10 Nadeau dished out 13 assists and had 17 steals. She was an instant spark on defense when coming off the bench.

Ciampi believes Nadeau will help at point guard as well because of her height. He thinks she will be able to dominate the offensive player at the point and will be good at breaking the press.

Auburn compiled a 24-5 overall mark last season, and was 6-2 in the Southeastern Conference. The Lady Tigers also made their first appearance in the National Collegiate Athletic Association tournament where they lost to Cheyney State 75-64 in the first round.

Baseball coaches needed

Coaches are needed for the Northville Junior Baseball Travel League. Interested persons should contact Tony Pump at 349-9151.

Registration for junior baseball will take place Saturday, January 29, and Saturday, February 5, at the community building.

Dr. Chase says:

DO YOU FEEL BROKEN DOWN AND WORN OUT?

In today's troubled times when all of us are trying to stretch our dollars as far as we can, it appears to me that we must go back to the basics. When I was a young boy growing up in Detroit, my Dad would take great pains in caring for his tools and possessions. Each time a particular item was used, it was carefully checked for worn or broken parts, cleaned and then placed back in its proper place. Next time that item was needed, we not only knew where to find it, but we could also be assured that it was in good working order, ready to go.

As time passes, in our modern world of fast living, we got out of the habit of taking care of our things. We became a "throw away" society. If something didn't work, don't fix it, throw it away and find something new. We have even become that way about our bodies. Don't worry about our health until it goes bad, then pills will always cover up our symptoms. If it gets really bad we can always "cut it out" and get a new one (transplants and, now, even artificial parts have been devised).

It is time we got back to the basics of life and health. It is time to start learning to take care of ourselves before we break down and wear out. There is something you can do to prevent sickness and disease.

Chiropractors are trained to examine the nervous system and locate the underlying cause of problems, sometimes even before they have a chance to cause a serious break down in your health. If you will take the time to read the following pages I am certain we can answer most of your questions about Chiropractic and health. Take the first step toward better health today, call 455-3593 for an appointment for your free spinal exam. It is up to you, crisis therapy, the medical way, or back to the basics of life with Chiropractic care.

11 Danger Signals

Why Suffer Needlessly?

Many have been told. "Your trouble is nerves, just nerves, that's all." Nerves are too important to the body to be dismissed so easily. Nerves make possible all movements, nerves transmit all sensations to the brain. Nerves make possible sight, smell, taste and hearing. Nerves control blood pressure, stomach action, blood flow, speech and breathing. Nerves make the bowels move. Nerves make it possible to swallow. In fact, all functions taking place in the body are under the control and coordination of the nervous system, and when any of the 11 Danger Signals listed begin to appear in your body it is usually the forerunner of a serious condition. Tension or "pinching" of spinal nerves robs your body of vital energy, thus causing the 11 Danger Signals to appear, which in time, if not corrected, is the underlying cause of disease.

Falls, stresses, strains, sprains, slipping, scooping, stooping, shaking, jolts, jars, tension, poor posture, tugging, stretching, twisting, turning, pushing, jumping, sudden impacts, lifting, bouncing, blows, athletic injuries, exertion, stumbling, and bouncing up and down on tractor seats all day long can produce spinal pressure and tension on sensitive delicate nerves. These nervous system short circuits slow down normal nerve energy flow, and rob your vital organs of their proper controlling force.

Regardless of the health problem you or any member of your family may have, it is entirely possible that your family chiropractor can replace despair and sorrow with glowing health and happiness. Spinal pressure and tension on sensitive, delicate nerves may cause many diseases.

OUR PATIENTS SPEAK

Thank you, Dr. Chase

I don't know how to thank Dr. Chase for all the help he has given me and the relief I feel from chiropractic adjustments. When I came in I could hardly walk, and now after a couple of spinal adjustments I feel fine. I only wish people would think and go to Dr. Chase when they feel bad because he sure has magic in his hands.

I know I'll never think I can take care of my aches and pains myself again, chiropractic adjustments have helped me so much that now I can even do my housework. I couldn't when my back was out of place. I hope people won't wait like I did until they are so bad they can't move. Thank You Again.

Lillian Muscott

Help Us Help Others

My name is Andy Orlando. I first started as a patient at the Chase Chiropractic Office approximately in March of 1980. I was referred by Mrs. Juhnke. My problem was a pinched nerve in the neck. I have received about 6 adjustments to date and feel GREAT. I first began feeling relief after my first adjustment. I would like to recommend the Chase Chiropractic Office and Dr. Chase to anyone with a health problem. Try them, you'll see!

Andy Orlando

Headaches Gone, Eyesight Improved

I gradually developed some weakness in my eyes and many bad headaches over a three year period. I fatigued more than normal and seemed to lack energy. After receiving negative results from an ophthalmologist, a neurologist, and several hospital tests, I asked my doctor about Chiropractic care. He said it couldn't hurt.

After a Chase Chiropractic examination and x-rays were taken, a plan was developed for treatment. Some minor back aches developed from the regular adjustments. However, the change and improvement was very noticeable.

My headaches are now very few and far between. I very seldom feel fatigued. My energy is back to its normal level, and my eyes are much better. Overall I feel a considerable improvement, and recommend chiropractic care to all my friends.

Larry Baker

Chiropractic Care, Don't Ever Underestimate It

Three years ago when I first placed myself under the Chiropractic care of Dr. Chase, I was suffering from severe headaches, extreme mental depression and a stomach that could hardly retain anything.

I had been under the constant care of my family medical doctor who finally informed me I was not holding my own and if I did not start doing better, I was not going to make it. It was at this point, through friends that I became acquainted with Dr. Chase.

Today I no longer have any physical problems. I never looked or felt better. I feel extremely well. I have also had a subsequent back problem and knee injury completely corrected through Chiropractic care. From experience I have discovered that Chiropractic care should be considered first. Don't ever underestimate it, and don't deprive yourself of it.

SHE IS THANKFUL FOR GOOD HEALTH

ALLERGIES ARE NOW GONE

During my childhood I suffered from colds, allergies, tonsillitis and bronchial problems. Nothing seemed to prevent me from becoming ill. My parents took me to a Chiropractor for the adjustments and for three years I had no problem at all. During my senior year at high school I came down with a bad cold and was really under the weather. I stopped in to a Medical Doctor for some relief. Shots, pills, the same old story. I'd forgotten what the Chiropractor could do.

Then it was back in the hospital and doctoring at least twice a year with pneumonia and bronchial difficulties. I became allergic to medications and suffered from the effects of the medication on top of already being ill. What a road to travel. I was at my wit's end.

Then one day I received an advertisement much like this one. It was from Dr. Chase. I read the circular and thought, one of these days I'll try Chiropractic once more.

I became ill again, chronic bronchitis. As usual I went back to my medical doctor several times and didn't feel any better. After having another prescription filled, I was driving home when I saw Dr. Chase's sign and stopped in for a consultation. That day marked a definite change in my health. The results of the adjustments have been amazing, as some people say, "a miracle."

I look forward to Christmas trees now, thanks to Chiropractic. I am no longer allergic to pine and spending most of the holiday season in bed or hospital sick. I am thankful for finding my health through Chiropractic, the natural way to health and a happy life.

Only through knowledge can you have wisdom. I am passing this one to you in hopes that you too can enjoy a healthy life.

Chiropractic Gets Results!

Two years of Suffering Has Ended

My name is Margaret Kesteloot, I've been sick with severe abdominal pains and lower back pains for two years. I had taken many different kinds of medication without getting better. One day I received a newspaper from the Chase Chiropractic office. I decided to try chiropractic ... what did I have to lose?

I put my life in Dr. Chase's hands and it worked. I've been a patient for two months and I feel terrific. I would like to recommend chiropractic and Dr. Chase to anyone with a health problem. Try them, you'll see.

Margaret Kesteloot

No More Pain Pills For Her...

When I first started going to Dr. Chase it was because I was in severe pain because of a bad fall on the ice. I couldn't sleep at night and I was taking pain pills every 3 or 4 hours. I was told by a medical doctor that I had a pinched nerve and it would take time for it to heal.

Then I went in Doctor Chase's office he took x-rays and he sat me down and talked to me and explained them. I had sprained my right hand, tore tendons under my right arm and breast and I had pulled my third and fourth vertebrae out of place.

After the first adjustment I felt some relief from the pressure, by the third adjustment I was starting to feel a lot better. By the time I had my tenth adjustment, I felt like a new person. I was not a true believer in Chiropractic care until this experience, but I am now.

If you have any aches and pains don't be afraid to go see a Chiropractor because your nerves control your body and if your nerves are not in proper order you will have aches and pains. Believe me you will be amazed!!

Thank you Dr. Chase,
Johnie V. Belcher

To use chart pick the picture which applies to you. Check spinal area most likely to be involved in column B. Check for your symptoms or ailments in column C. Check column A for your body areas which may be affected.

This spinal chart is directed especially to people who have tried to regain their health through methods other than chiropractic, and have failed. THAT FAILURE SHOULD NOT LEAD TO DISCOURAGEMENT, but to greater determination to discover the fundamental cause of all disease.

If your condition is not described in the chart, contact your chiropractor for a consultation, examination and x-rays, if necessary. He will determine by his analysis of your spinal condition what you can expect from chiropractic care.

OUR PATIENTS SPEAK

Asthma Relief After 40 Years of Suffering

In August, I took the flu. I went to our family doctor, he gave me a prescription for pills and liquid medicine. I took them and felt some better, but never was well.

I worked all that winter and just got worse. On the 18th of March I went home and called our doctor for an appointment. He said I had pneumonia. I was shocked. I was told to stay home and rest. I did, but felt I had to get back to work. The doctor said if I felt like it I could go back the 5th of April.

I went back but could not work, so back to the doctor again and more medicine. I felt some better so, April the 12th I went back to work and worked to April 16th.

Each day my boss said, "you don't look so well, why don't you go home." I told him I was trying to stay the week out, but if I was not better I would not be back Monday. In the meantime I received an advertisement letter in the mail from Dr. Richard Chase.

I had taken so much medicine my stomach hurt if I ate or if I didn't eat and every pill I took made it worse. I wish I didn't have to take any more pills, so I said to my husband I am going to Dr. Chase the Chiropractor. I couldn't lose and at least I wouldn't have to take any more pills.

After three weeks, I was sorry I did not know about Dr. Chase a long time ago. I have all kinds of allergies, hayfever, sinus trouble and asthma. I can breathe better now than in years. I am sure if I keep up my Chiropractic adjustments I will be well. If I had known years ago, I would have saved myself a lot of suffering.

Accident Victim's Mother Recommends Chiropractic

I am Leota Begin reporting an auto accident my daughter Anmarie had in April. She was seriously injured with neck and back problems and was temporarily paralyzed. I immediately notified Dr. Chase at The Chase Chiropractic Office in Plymouth. Prompt visits and treatments, upon release from the hospital, to Anmarie were outstanding and saved her from a nent damage. Anmarie is fine today. I sincerely recommend The Chase Chiropractic Office for accident and general health care for your entire family.

Pain Made It Difficult To Walk or Climb Stairs

I am 76 years old. I have been suffering with backaches for a long time. The pain extended to my right leg making it difficult for me to walk and climb stairs.

Because of my age, I didn't think anything could be done. Finally, I decided to try chiropractic treatment and went to see Dr. Chase.

After a number of treatments, I improved. I am walking normally now and am beginning to see improvement in climbing stairs.

OCCUPATIONAL INJURIES

Those injuries that result from work related activity

HOW THEY AFFECT YOU

THE EMPLOYEE:

A job related injury is not only painful to the injured worker, but can create other painful situations. It can put a strain on family and personal relationships, not to mention your own pocketbook. People who are used to good health and being busy find themselves coping with illness and time on their hands.

SOCIETY:

Society accepts people on a basis of ability to produce. An injured worker becomes a burden on the producing labor force. Consequently, it is to the benefit of society and the injured worker to recover quickly and return to the job.

TO BUSINESS:

It is well known skyrocketing costs are directly related to the high costs in business. A valued worker is very important to the success of business. Returning the injured worker to the job is of the greatest importance. That is why a quick, effective method of care is a must.

THE CHIROPRACTIC ANSWER:

It has been proven that Chiropractic health care can be the most effective and economical care for the injured worker. Returning the injured to the job healthy and quickly making it important to the injured worker, society and business.

RESULTING IMPACT INJURIES:

Injuries to the neck and spine, as a result of an auto accident, are one of the most serious health problems today. The ever increasing number of automobiles on our busy highways provides the ideal opportunity for this type of sudden impact injury.

WHIPLASH:

Symptoms of whiplash are severe headaches, pain in the neck, pain in the shoulders, dizziness, confusion etc. These are just a few major complaints you may suffer.

IMPACT INJURIES:

Many other injuries may occur when we are involved in a sudden impact injury. Severe low back pain, pain in the legs, stomach upset, kidney disturbance, and just general health distress are many of the complaints directly related to a sudden impact injury.
